Engineer Accused Of Running Car Over San Rafael Woman

An engineer from Patterson, Stanislaus County, was in Marin County Jail today on suspicion of wilfully running over a San Rafael woman with his car last night.

The victim, Mrs. Karolina X. Lynn, 53, of 4 Bayview street, suffered a crushed right leg, a broken rib, bruised shoulder and possible internal injuries. She was reported in "fair" condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Driver of the car, Antone Mini, 45, was held on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon (his car) in lieu of $3,500 bail.

Mrs. Lynn, a waitress, told Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa she had gone to San Francisco International Airport yesterday looking for a job. She met Mini, who mentioned he was headed for San Rafael and offered her a ride home.

Mrs. Lynn told the chief she wanted to stop at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael for a swim. While she was in the pool, she said Mini was drinking at the bar. Then he offered to take her home.

But instead, he continued north along Lincoln avenue, whereupon she demanded to be let out. She said he stopped, and she got off. The next thing she remembers is that he drove the car over her, at least twice.

That was about 9 p.m. on Lincoln avenue near Hammond court. Two witnesses called police when they saw a man drag a woman from under a car, put her inside and drive off.

From a description of the car, California Highway Patrol Officer Ralph P. Anderson stopped Mini on Tamalpais avenue in Corte Madera about 30 minutes later. Mrs. Lynn was in the car.

San Rafael Police Officer Wade R. Powell said Mrs. Lynn did not want medical aid and did not want to sign a complaint.

But Officer Powell called the ambulance when he noticed her badly swollen leg and scratches and bruises from head to foot.

Mini told the officer he had "about three beers" but did not recall exactly what had happened or where he was. He said he thought he was in Oakland. Police arrested Mini on suspicion of drunkenness as well as assault with a deadly weapon.

Mrs. Lynn's smashed overnight bag, was found beside Lincoln avenue.

Fireman Apologizes To New Appointee

By DEEDEE ABRAMSON
A Tiburon volunteer fireman grudgingly apologized last night to newly appointed fire commissioner Fred Mantegani on the demand of Mantegani's attorney.

Long-time volunteer fireman Charles Pastori Jr. told the commissioners of the Tiburon Fire Protection District that he had received a letter from Mantegani's Mill Valley attorney stating that he (Pastori)

S.F. Newspaper Strike Possible

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The executive board of the San Francisco-Oakland Newspaper Guild was scheduled to meet today to discuss a possible strike against the city's three major daily newspapers.

The guild's contract expired March 27, and negotiation between the guild and the publishers association broke off Tuesday. The membership has authorized a strike.

Wages were reported to be the principal stumbling block in the talks. The guild is seeking $8 to $17.50 increases over two years, and the publishers have offered $4.50 to $9.50.

had, in circulating petitions for the appointment of Richard L. Williamson to a commission post, made statements that defamed Mantegani's character.

Pastori said the letter signed by attorney John Richard Flor, said Pastori owed Mantegani a public apology.

"I apologize at this commission meeting," Pastori said. "I still believe some of the things I said, but I am sorry for the manner in which I said them."

He then asked Mantegani and his attorney if the apology was accepted. They nodded "yes." "I understand that I will receive a letter to this effect," Pastori asked. Again both nodded "yes" Pastori then sat down.

Mantegani, who took to the meeting his credentials entitling him to sit as a commissioner by appointment of the county board of supervisors, said he had a slogan that would govern his actions on the board.

"I am here, not to grind axes, but to grind taxes," he said. Vice Chairman Fred C. Hannahs asked if the slogan could be amended to furnishing of adequate fire protection to the district. Mantegani had no comment.

Commissioners then discussed the advisability of having formal examinations for the position of fire chief. Chairman J. F. Stanton said Fire Chief Jack Ishmael had been appointed "temporarily" over two years ago. Stanton said he is under pressure to hold examinations for the position.

Commissioners will secure the information on how to hold an examination by their next regular meeting. Stanton asked for a special meeting for next Monday night but, since Mantegani will be out of town

Marin Schools Open; 36,000 Pupils Enroll

Evidence that summer is over and school is open appeared this morning as buses and cars, transporting children for the first day of school, clogged Marin's streets.

Nearly 36,000 youngsters in the county's public and parochial schools began classes today.

Because the new Larkspur elementary school will not open until mid-October, its prospective pupils in first through fifth grades will be on double sessions at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. Regular pupils at Larkspur-Corte Madera School in first through third grades also will be on double sessions.

Three new schools opened today. They are the Lu Sutton School in Novato, the Lucas Valley School in Marinwood and Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia.

School officials were totaling their first-day enrollment figures but did not expect the totals to be conclusive. Many pupils are expected to enroll for the first time next Monday, when their families return home from vacations prolonged by two holidays this week.

THIS JUROR'S BOX IS ON THE LEFTFIELD LINE

Judge Harold J. Haley had to sit in court this afternoon, but juror Edward G. Ahrens made the Giant-Pirate baseball game.

Ahrens, who lives at 73 Bolinas avenue, Ross, was on the jury panel for a drunken driving trial in Judge Haley's division of Marin Municipal Court today. During questioning by attorneys, it developed that the only reason Ahrens could offer for being excused from the jury was that he had two tickets to the Giants' game in his pocket.

Judge and attorneys were more resourceful. They conferred briefly and came up with reasons of their own. Nodding to Ahrens, Judge Haley said, "You're excused."

As Ahrens walked from the courtroom, he happily waved two baseball tickets.

Congress Overrides Ike Bill Veto For First Time

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress today overrode an Eisenhower veto for the first time.

First the House and then the Senate voted to override the President's second rejection of the public works appropriation bill.

The House vote was 280 to 121, which was 12 more than the two-thirds margin required.

The Senate vote was 72 to 23, or eight more than needed. Vetoed by the President yesterday, the measure carries $1,183,309,093 in funds for several hundred water development projects throughout the country.

It marked the first time that legislation has been enacted into law over an Eisenhower veto. During his six years, eight months in office he had been successful in rejecting 144 measures. The House has never voted to override him until today.

Bank Robber Gets 15-Year Prison Term

William (Dugie) Williams, 31, drew a 15-year prison sentence today for the $14,430 robbery of the Bank of America at Point Reyes Station.

Judge Louis E. Goodman of U. S. District Court in San Francisco, in sentencing the Santa Rosa ex-convict, said he was convinced Williams still had not made full disclosure of approximately $10,000 of the loot not yet turned up.

"I still have control over this case for 60 days," Goodman said. "This will give him time to do a little thinking about it."

The court indicated a lesser sentence could result if Williams cooperated in finding the missing money.

Williams held up the bank on Aug. 17 with what later proved to be an unloaded gun. He kidnaped A. E. Cencio of Petaluma, the bank manager, but released him unharmed near Samuel P. Taylor State Park during the getaway. He later surrendered at the Sonoma County sheriff's office.

James J. Duryea, the robber's attorney, said his client had been frank in his statement that the money had been buried near Mill Valley but that he could not remember the location.

But the judge was not convinced. He commented that Williams had told the probation officer he had given $1,000

Boys Confess Rifling Store, State Office

Two 10-year-old boys have admitted rifling Ednick's Bakery and the Department of Motor Vehicles office in San Rafael during Labor Day weekend to look for money, San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa disclosed today.

The money taken from the bakery, about $45, was recovered intact. The boys said they searched the motor vehicles office for cash but were unable to find any. The youngsters were turned over to the probation office for disciplinary action.

The boys told police they did not have to break into the two establishments because a window was ajar in one and the door was ajar in the other.

Capt. Joseph J. Brusatori said one of the boys came in yesterday with a bag of money which he said he had found. Further quizzing led to the admission.

CENTRAL THIRD OF STATE MAY GET SHOWERS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The outlook is for scattered light showers through Friday in California's central third, the Weather Bureau said, and a few thunder storms are likely in the central area and in the mountains of the north.

Cloudiness increased during the night and early morning as southerly winds carried more moisture into California from an upper air disturbance off the southern coast.

Lie Test Indicates Kayo Telling Truth

Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, 22, of Ross, has new evidence to back up his case in the felonious assault trial scheduled for Oct. 27.

A second lie detector test, taken voluntarily by young Hallinan, tends to indicate that he is telling the truth when he says the other youth had his hands in combat position just before Kayo struck him, according to a polygraph expert.

Kayo is accused of breaking the jaw of James W. Thalhamer Jr., 18, of Fairfax last May 29 outside the Greenbrae Lanes bowling alley.

SECOND TEST
The first lie test, taken by Kayo on Aug. 12, was "inconclusive," according to George W. Harman, polygraph expert. But Harman reported to Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich yesterday that Hallinan had taken a second lie test last Friday.

Thalhamer and his friends said Kayo attacked without provocation of any kind. Their accounts were backed up by the polygraph examination.

But young Hallinan contends Thalhamer approached Kayo's friend, Richard Llewellyn of Sleepy Hollow, with his fists up. Kayo says he went over and Thalhamer had his hands in fighting position. Kayo said he struck out and ducked at the same time.

TELLING TRUTH
The lie detector expert said Hallinan is "probably telling the truth" on these questions: Did Thalhamer have his arms up in fighting position when he was standing next to Llewellyn? (The answer was yes.) Did you hit Thalhamer without any real provocation from him? (The answer was no.)

Kayo's replies were inconclusive on these questions: Did Thalhamer actually talk to you directly just before you hit him? Did Thalhamer draw his fist back as if to hit you just before you hit him? The lie test expert pointed out, however, that the results of the second test must be qualified in view of Hallinan's knowledge of the testing procedure.

District Attorney Weissich declared today the trial will proceed as scheduled. He is demanding a jury although Hallinan was willing to waive a jury. Weissich said Thalhamer and his friends have passed lie tests to show they are telling the truth, and the results of Hallinan's second lie test should make no difference in the case.

Reports On Hayden Surprise Shipmates

Two more crew members of Sterling Hayden's schooner, the Wanderer, returned home to Marin and expressed surprise today at reports that Hayden plans to head for home next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Africa of Sausalito, who left Hayden in Tahiti on Aug. 28, said the actor had indicated he would sell his schooner and remain in Tahiti for about a year to write a book.

ects 2½ per cent but also contained the 67 new starts.

Before the Senate voted today Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen appealed in vain to the Senate to uphold the veto. Dirksen lauded Eisenhower's courage in rejecting a measure which affected projects in 35 states, saying "the American people will applaud the President of the United States for his concern over our fiscal integrity."

Reports On Hayden Surprise Shipmates

Hayden and his crew sailed out of Sausalito last January and headed for the South Seas in defiance of a Los Angeles court order.

Africa, 53, first mate, and his wife Barbara, 45, appeared before Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich today with attorney Richard F. Gerry of Sausalito.

Africa told Weissich that crew members thought Hayden was headed for Santa Barbara when they sailed the Wanderer out of Sausalito last January. But after they were out beyond 12 miles from shore, Hayden told them they were going to Tahiti.

On the basis of their voluntary appearance and their statements, Weissich said he would dismiss all charges against Mr. and Mrs. Africa. But the conspiracy charges against actor Hayden still stand. If Hayden should return to this country, he faces a warrant of arrest with $5,000 bail. A Los Angeles court had forbidden him to take his children out of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Africa and their three children, aged 12, 9 and 6, had breakfast at attorney Gerry's home at 181 Spencer avenue in Sausalito this morning. They are living temporarily on Walter Anderson's

Mansion Rats Fat As Pat's Cat Falls Flat

SACRAMENTO (AP)—This is a saga of rats and cats in the California governor's mansion. The historic residence has a rat problem. A variety of remedies ranging from poison to Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown himself on the far end of a broom have been to no avail.

Mrs. Brown, deciding the situation was out of hand, especially with the grandchildren visiting, and the baby only two months old, called for a cat.

"I've always heard that cats act as a deterrent," explained the first lady.

The wheels of state government rolled into action promptly. The would-be rat killer—a large, white, efficient-looking individual—was delivered to the mansion basement late yesterday by the Division of Buildings and Grounds.

Apparently she came from such a high-priority spot on the civil service list that no one questioned her ability to swing into action immediately. Everyone in the mansion breathed a bit easier.

But when the Browns awoke this morning, the question before the household was whether the cat would get the rats or the rats would get the cat.

The supposed instrument of the mansion's salvation had given birth to six white kittens during the night.

The whole gang went back to the animal shelter today, leaving the Browns with no cat, no kittens and the same pack of rats.

Youths With Knives Terrorizing Children

Sheriff's deputies today sought two Terra Linda teenagers who are terrorizing younger boys by attacking them in an alley and sticking a knife at their sides.

Several parents called the sheriff last night, asking for protection against two youths, believed to be about 15 or 16 years old.

Capt. John W. Harris of 4 Wintergreen terrace said his two sons, aged 11 and 9, were on their newspaper route when they were stopped by the older youths in an alley between homes on Las Pavadas, Las Colindas and Woodbine streets. The attackers hit the smaller youngsters, then grabbed Robert around the neck and put a knife against his arm and side.

Similar incidents were reported by other residents in the area.

Boys' Loot Found Under Marin City Basement Floor

Three boys from Marin City, who had been enjoying candy, cigarettes and more than 100 records, all free, were caught yesterday when sheriff's deputies found the loot hidden in a secret cache under the basement floor of a home.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Slezzer said the boys, 16, 15, and 14, admitted breaking into a record shop and a pool hall in Marin City last month.

On an anonymous tip, deputies went to the home of one of the boys and ordered the youth to slide back the floor boards from the basement. In the secret hiding place were a carton of cigarettes and another carton full of candy bars. From the three homes, officers rounded up 127 records, 45 r.p.m., which the boys admitted they stole.

S.F. Drops Plans For Trade Fair

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Plans for an annual world trade fair in San Francisco have dissolved because of competition from similar events scheduled for Seattle and Los Angeles.

Thomas R. Rooney, executive director of the show-to-be, said the other cities' plans "threatened the continuity" of the San Francisco fair, originally scheduled to open in June at the Cow Palace.

Seattle plans a science and trade fair in 1961 and Los Angeles expects to have a world fair in 1964.

Rooney said a San Francisco world trade fair "just doesn't seem practicable" any more.

Petitions to recall Mantegani were checked by the commission, revealing that 100 signatures had been obtained. The petitions are being circulated by the other four members of the commission: Stanton, Hanahs, Kelly J. Wheeler and Paul C. Hantzsch, as private citizens, Stanton said.

"As individual citizens within the fire protection district, we are circulating these petitions because we do not like the way in which this appointment was handled by the board of supervisors," Stanton said.

The way the commission is operating the district was questioned by former commissioner Howard I. McGill, who was answered by Stanton. None of the other 30 spectators spoke during the meeting.

The commission voted to secure competitive bids on all equipment purchases and authorized warrants in the amount of $1,313.

Accused Planter Of Bomb Found Dead In Oakland

OAKLAND (UP)—An Oakland contractor, arrested after a crude gasoline bomb had been planted in a friend's car, was found dead in his apartment today. The cause of death was not immediately determined.

The body of William Kambic, 46, was face down in the hallway of an apartment. Robert Mulley, Lafayette contractor, made the discovery when he went to pick up Kambic to take him to work.

Kambic was free on $5,000 bail pending a preliminary hearing on a charge of attempted arson.

Archie Frazier, assistant fire chief, reported to police last week he had loaned his car to Kambic. Later, he said, he found a five-gallon can of gasoline in the rear of his car with a fuse leading to the car floorboard. He said matches had been fixed to the fuse at the muffler.

School Remodeling Nears Completion

Remodeling work at the Meadow Park School at Hamilton Air Force Base is virtually finished and is expected to be completed by Monday. Supt. Phillip W. Schneider of the San Jose School District reported today.

Contractor on the job, W. J. Kubon Co. of San Rafael, is proceeding on schedule with foundation work for the several new buildings near the existing school.

Saving-Loan Assn. Marks First Year In New Building

A gigantic vault door was transferred to a new headquarters of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. for opening of its new office exactly a year ago today.

The office at Fifth avenue and B street in San Rafael was the third location of the vault door. Its first location was in Sausalito, where Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. was founded in 1923. The second location was an office on A street in San Rafael, which opened in 1953.

The association has grown from assets of $7,043 to assets of Aug. 31, 1959, of $18,457,785. Besides its San Rafael headquarters, it has a branch at 130 Throckmorton avenue, Mill Valley.

Woman, Tots Still Missing; Hunt On

SAN MATEO (UP)—A statewide search continued today for a young San Jose housewife and her two small children, missing since Sunday.

The woman is Barbara Martin, 20. The children are a 2-year-old son and a four-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Martin was last seen Sunday in San Mateo when she and two men drove into the yard of Mrs. Martin's sister, Mrs. Donna Lombardy, argued briefly, then left.

The children were not with her at that time. The missing woman's husband, Joseph, told police she and the children spent the past month in Los Angeles and were to meet him at Mrs. Lombardy's home.

Airman Admits Rape Attempt

A/2c Joseph C. Rodriguez, 21, of Hamilton Air Force Base, today pleaded guilty in Santa Rosa Municipal Court to a charge of attempting to rape a 15-year-old San Rafael girl last month.

Rodriguez, of the 78th Food Service Squadron, appeared before Judge Lincoln F. Mahan and pleaded guilty to the charge, which included keeping the girl away from her home overnight and giving her liquor.

The airman, who has been held in Sonoma County Jail in Santa Rosa on $1,000 bail, was released without bail and ordered to appear in court next week.

Marin Club Italia Marks 25th Year

Club Italia of Marin celebrated its silver anniversary this week with a dinner at Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael, honoring charter members and past presidents.

Master of ceremonies and charter member Milton Tonini traced the club's growth from a handful of members in 1934 to its present size, and recalled the "good old days" in his after-dinner address.

Corte Madera Sewer, Break Repair Set

A broken eight-inch sewer main in Corte Madera's Lagoon No. 1 is expected to be repaired by a skin diver tomorrow morning.

William A. Adam, manager of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, said he plans to have the work started by 9 o'clock.

After the overlying rock fill has been cleared away, Adam said, a rubberized gasket will be placed over the break and secured with a steel clamp. The sewer main is buried in the lagoon's mud bottom.

The break occurred over the weekend behind the waterfront home of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo B. Ferrari at 20 Council Crest drive in Madera Gardens. Intermittent leakage into the lagoon is small and service is being maintained, Adam said.

State Studies 3rd Southbound Lane South Of Air Base

Possibility of a third southbound traffic lane on Highway 101 from the Black Point cut-off to the entrance to Hamilton Air Force Base is being studied by the state Division of Highways, the Novato Chamber of Commerce has been informed.

A letter received from J. P. Sinclair, assistant State Highway Engineer, reports the extra lane is being considered. The letter will be read at the regular meeting of the chamber directors at 8 o'clock tonight in the chamber office.

Directors had requested the Division of Highways to study the idea of constructing the lane to ease traffic congestion along the two and one-half mile stretch.

'NOW SEE HERE, GOVERNOR . . .'

Thomas F. Mahar got some of his feelings about New York state's tax problems off his chest when he met Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday at Syracuse. The governor took it with good grace, although he had a problem of his own—his chauffeur had slammed a car door on Rockefeller's right middle finger, ripping the nail. Rockefeller toured the New York State Fair today with his hand-shaking hand out of commission. (AP Wirephoto)

WELL, BACK TO THE OPERA Siren's Wail Missed By Visiting Fireman

Carl Modell and his bull fiddle have come home.

And tomorrow night they help open San Francisco's opera season with Verdi's "Aida."

Modell said the audiences were "wonderful in Portland." Modell and other members of the San Francisco Opera orchestra returned to the Bay Area this week after playing for several operas in the Oregon city.

The Portland audiences even liked such offbeat operas as Karl Orf's "Carmino Burana."

But one thing bothered Modell. He didn't hear any sirens. He is a commissioner of the Homestead Volunteer Fire Department, and because of this he had one ear cocked for the sounds of fire engines. He even had other members of the orchestra doing it.

"On the last day we were there I became a visiting fireman," he said. "I went to the central fire station and they took me on a tour. But still I didn't hear sirens."

Then it happened.

Modell returned to his hotel, and complained some more to his fellow musicians about the lack of sirens in the city of roses.

Then a civil defense siren let go.

Modell heaved a happy sigh. (Incidentally, for true-blooded opera folk, it's not a bull fiddle—it's a double bass.)

The Rhode Island State House at Providence has one of the four marble domes in the world — the others being the Taj Mahal in India, St. Peter's at Rome, and the Minnesota State Capitol at St. Paul.

Bolinas, Stinson Schools Moving Toward Merger

Children in the Bolinas and Stinson Beach school districts started classes today under a new plan that someday may see the two districts joined into one.

First graders and pupils in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades attended classes at the Bolinas School, and children in the other grades attended Stinson Beach School.

A further first step toward unification came about last night as the boards of trustees of the two districts held their first joint meeting.

The meeting was held at the Bolinas School. Next month's meeting will be held at Stinson Beach, and the meeting will alternate throughout the year. Bolinas board clerk Arthur E. Carpenter said that perhaps, in a year or so, after the trial of joint meetings and the joint use of schools, the voters in each district will be asked to ballot on unification.

Carpenter said last night's meeting was really three. Each board met separately for about an hour, and then the joint meeting was held.

He said mostly routine business was taken up at the meetings. He said the Bolinas board told of the Bolinas School District plan to start educational television classes in sciences and the humanities for the upper grades. The program, approved at a previous meeting, will use the services of station KQED.

Both boards set up a bus schedule and hired two bus drivers, and decided upon an insurance program that is to be paid by the parents.

Carpenter also announced that a gasoline tank and pump has been installed at the Bolinas School.

He said school doors today opened to approximately 120 pupils.

New Building Going Up At School

Construction of a combined administration building and library has started at Marin Country Day School on Paradise drive in Corte Madera.

The one-story building, designed by John Lyon Reid and Partners of San Francisco, is being built by Ralph E. Murphy and Sons of San Rafael. It will have 2,668 square feet of space.

According to the building permit, the structure will cost about $21,000. To make room for it, two of the school's original classrooms buildings were relocated on another portion of the day school campus.

Two "allied arts" buildings—for the graphic arts and the performing arts—are nearing completion by the Murphy firm. While unfinished, they will be usable when school opens on Thursday.

A master plan for development of the 36-acre campus was approved recently by the Corte Madera Planning Commission.

About 250 pupils are expected to enroll at the private school this year. The future campus is designed for an enrollment of 370.

TABBY TURNS TEMPERMENTAL, INJURES OWNER

A crochety old cat, virtually a member of a San Rafael family for 17 years, turned against his master yesterday, sending him to the hospital with scratches and bites.

Clarence Nitzke, 55, of 40 Center street, was petting the tabby when the heretofore docile feline struck.

A San Rafael General Hospital spokesman said Nitzke was treated and released.

Peri Due Back On Job

Fairfax Police Chief Andy J. Peri expects to be back on duty next Wednesday. After his vacation he was on sick leave with laryngitis. His doctor advised Peri to "take it easy," reported Capt. Clifford Cordes.

Harbor Loan Haste Urged

The Larkspur Recreation Commission last night urged the city council to "proceed with haste" in seeking a $300,000 state loan for development of a municipal boat harbor on Arroyo Holon canal.

The unanimous recommendation came after commissioners studied City Manager Ronald E. Piper's revised plans for a harbor with more than 100 berthing spaces.

Nov. 16 is the deadline for filing a loan application with the state Small Craft Harbors Commission.

The city council last week instructed Piper to prepare harbor cost estimates and a financial feasibility report based on the revised plans.

Mexican Resort Town Battered By Hurricane

TIJUANA, Mexico (UP)—A hurricane that struck the small Baja California resort community of La Paz with 90 mile an hour winds diminished to the status of a tropical storm today and moved northwestward along the Mexico coast.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in San Francisco said the storm, with about 70 miles an hour winds near the center, was located 220 miles up the coast of Baja California, 20 miles offshore at 8 a.m. It was moving about nine miles an hour.

After leveling a number of frame homes and buildings in Las Paz yesterday, the storm was kicking up rough seas and squalls outward to about 60 miles from its center today.

No injuries were reported in La Paz and the sparsely populated lower tip of Baja California battered by the storm, but a number of families were said to be homeless and La Paz streets were covered with debris.

Gen. Bonifacio Salinas Leal, governor of the district of Southern Baja California, said Mexican President Lope Mateo has ordered troops and whatever aid was needed into La Paz.

Boys Err In Asking Refund On Coat Stolen From Shop

Two Terra Linda youths, aged 16, who stole a suede jacket from Macy's in San Rafael on Tuesday, should have left well enough alone.

But instead, they returned to the scene of the crime yesterday to get a refund on the jacket. They were promptly caught by Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa and Officer Thomas Cheetham.

William Robert Doyle of San Anselmo, manager of the men's department, said the boys came in shortly before noon yesterday, saying they wanted a refund but had lost the sales receipt. He became suspicious and began questioning them more closely, whereupon the boys dropped the jacket and headed for the door.

Police spotted the boys as they drove out of Macy's parking lot in a hurry, and chased them down at Fifth and Lincoln avenues.

One admitted he stole the jacket, and the other said he went in for the refund. Both youths are to report to the police department next Wednesday with their parents.

Departing School Principal Honored

Daryl A. Hopkins, departing principal of Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley, was honored yesterday at a luncheon at Sabella's.

Among the 40 who attended were G. R. McConnell, Mill Valley School District superintendent, the principal speaker; Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County school superintendent, and Dr. Logan Miles, Hopkins' successor at Edna Maguire School.

Hopkins left the school to become consultant to Hollis in the county school system.

Marin Pianist To Give Concert

David Del Tredici, young San Anselmo pianist who gave a recital at Opus One in San Francisco Sunday, will repeat the concert in Angelic Hall of Dominican College in San Rafael at 8 p.m. tomorrow. No admission fee will be charged.

The program will start with modern composers, continue with Chopin and conclude with Beethoven.

Novato Fire Board Again To Discuss Alarm Box Setup

A proposed fire alarm box system for Novato will again come up for discussion at tonight's meeting of the Novato Fire District board at 8 o'clock in the main fire house.

Also on the agenda are further discussion of a retirement program for firemen and a review of insurance coverage.

Fire alarm boxes are presently installed in schools, but have not been connected to a central alarm system. Alarm boxes along Grant avenue are proposed also.

Possibility of purchase of a new pumper truck as a replacement for the one now in service will also be discussed.

Marin Equestrienne Wins Second Ribbon

Christie Burns, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burns, of 45 Manor road, Kentfield, last night added the second ribbon to her collection from the State Fair horse show at Sacramento.

Astride her gelding Foreign Lands, Christie took second place in the five gaited amateur class last night; Monday she won the blue ribbon in the ladies five gaited class.

BLUE WALKS TOO MUCH FOR CITY OFFICIALS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore city officials have censored a sidewalk painting.

The designers of a new downtown office building wanted to paint the sidewalk a soothing robin's egg blue.

"Why, if we allow them to paint the sidewalks blue," exclaimed William L. Chilcote, deputy director of public works, "the man in the next block will want to dye his sidewalk green."

"Someone would come along then with a request to install linoleum on his sidewalk. Where would it end?"

Chilcote and other officials decided it wouldn't even start. They washed out the blue idea.

Sausalito Bar Burglarized; Liquor Stolen

Zack's by the Bay, a Sausalito bar and restaurant at Bridgeway boulevard and Turney street, is missing "a quantity of liquor" and a window pane.

And whoever took it, dropped and broke a bottle of expensive whiskey in the patio.

Stan Treshnell, part owner of the restaurant, told police yesterday that when a janitor arrived at 7 a.m., he found a pane of glass had been removed and a door opened.

He said that before the place was closed at 1 a.m., two young men, both slender, both blond, both about 23, sat for three hours at a table adjacent to the window from which the pane of glass was removed.

Police said they do not know what was taken, except that Treshnell was making an inventory, and said he thought "a lot of liquor was taken."

Loma Verde Doesn't Want To Be In City

Directors of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn. tomorrow will request the Marin County Board of Supervisors to exclude Loma Verde from any incorporated city of Novato.

James A. Swenson, president of the association, said today the board of directors has approved a recommendation against inclusion made by a special study committee headed by Capt. Francis McGovern.

The reasons for wishing to be excluded will be made public at the supervisors' meeting at 2 p.m. tomorrow, said Swenson.

"We are speaking for the majority of the 175 homeowners in the area," declared Swenson, "although the membership of the association is now 96."

A membership meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at Loma Verde School.

Boy Dodging Dog Falls To Death; Woman Charged

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman has been charged with homicide in the death of a 16-year-old youth who fell to his death from a Bronx tenement roof while fleeing her unleashed watch dog.

The victim, Jesus Delgado, was playing on the roof of the five-story building. The noise annoyed Mrs. Anna Marone, 67, who lives on the top floor.

Police said she went to the roof and unleashed her big Belgian shepherd dog. The dog lunged toward Delgado who ran to another side of the roof, leaped over a parapet, failed to reach an adjoining building, and plummeted 70 feet.

STOCKS TODAY

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Stocks declined again today, this time on sharply reduced volume. Traders kept to the sidelines and the small demand found prices slipping steadily.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,500,000 shares compared with 3,030,000 yesterday.

Key stocks were down from fractions to a point or so. A scattering of issues were down two or more points.

The market showed a higher tendency at the start as it firmed after two days of sharp declines. Then prices dropped as the session wore on.

Steels, motors, coppers, rails, chemicals, aircrafts and drug were among the losers.

Allied Chemical dropped about four. National Lead and DuPont lost more than two apiece.

Down more than a point were Ford, Jones and Laughlin, Texaco and International Paper.

Caterpillar fell about three and Douglas Aircraft around two. Schenley lost well over a point.

Losses of about a point were shown by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Goodyear, General Tire, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Pfizer and Schering.

Mumps Heads List Of Communicable Disease

Seventeen communicable disease cases were reported in Marin County during the week ended last Saturday, according to a tabulation issued by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Mumps headed the list with eight cases in San Rafael and one in Corte Madera, San Rafael also reporting two cases of measles with one in Larkspur.

2 Marin City Women In Battle Over Man

Two women, one armed with a butcher knife and the other brandishing an iron rod, battled over the affections of a man last night in a Marin City yard.

Mrs. Doris Cooper, 36, of House 612, suffered a cut on the left shoulder from a knife wielded by Mrs. Shirley May Tate, 29, of A-12, Apt. 95, according to Sheriff's Deputy H. E. Morgan. Mrs. Tate was jailed on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

The duel took place in an open yard half way between buildings A-12 and A-22 about 7 p.m.

Mrs. Cooper contended she confronted Mrs. Tate and accused the latter of going fishing with her (Mrs. Cooper's) husband. Mrs. Cooper brandished a bottle of kerosene and a two-foot iron rod and told Mrs. Tate to stay away from her husband "or else."

Mrs. Tate then ran back to her home to get a butcher knife. Mrs. Cooper said she dropped her weapons and grappled with Mrs. Tate. But Mrs. Tate's mother joined the fray, causing Mrs. Cooper to lose her grip on the arm that held the knife. The knife blade plunged into her shoulder, Mrs. Cooper reported.

Deputy Morgan said Mrs. Tate admitted wielding the knife but alleged she was defending herself against the iron rod.

Employment, Jobless Rolls Both Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both employment and unemployment declined in August. The job total, although curbed by the steel strike, still was a record for August.

The Labor Department announced today that employment, affected by a big seasonal drop in farming as well as the steel shutdown and early auto industry model change-over, declined to 67,241,000. This was down 353,000 from the 67,594,000 employed in July.

Unemployment in August declined to 3,426,000, or 318,000 less than the 3,744,000 idle in July.

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said that aside from the steel strike layoffs, the "underlying employment situation is very good."

Synthetic mink is being made from a mixture of dnyel and nylon. It's said to be indistinguishable from the natural fur.

All Dental Society Members In Favor Of Fluoridation

The entire membership of the Marin County Dental Society in a recent survey endorsed the proposed fluoridation of the county water supply. Dr. Edwin C. Randol, society president, said today.

Randol pointed out that the endorsement was approved by 100 per cent of the active membership. Twenty-one dentists in a statement yesterday announced their support of fluoridation as a separate group and not as members of the society.

The Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin which is urging fluoridation of the county's water was holding a campaign kickoff luncheon today at Sabella's at Alto.

Dr. Ellis Sox, health officer for San Francisco, and Robert Tumelty, health education officer of the California State Dental Assn., were the speakers.

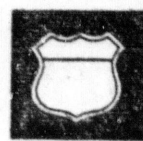

A FINAL DEMONSTRATION CLIMAXING FORD'S 3 YEARS AND 3 MILLION MILES OF RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT ON THE NEW FORD FALCON...

EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A.

A fleet of Falcons is going to undergo a final exhausting test... over every single mile of numbered U.S. Federal Highway... along a crisscross route that will include the ups and downs of two major mountain ranges, the vicious heat and dust of the Pacific Northwest, the challenges of every type of roadway and thruway, main street and boulevard.

Hear Experience Run Drivers Report on ABC Radio MONITOR! Weekends!

TODAY...10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested... everything-tested on Ford's own proving grounds.

The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it can take anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads. How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage, you ask? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon! Experience Run, U.S.A., will also demonstrate the Falcon's sports car handling and agility, plus its big-car ride and comfort. And America will learn how easily the Falcon can carry six big adults plus all their baggage.

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's... for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the 1960 Ford Falcon.

Dixie District Doubles Size Of New School

Dixie School District—faced with a mushrooming school population—will double the size of the Dixie Intermediate School now under construction.

The district board last night authorized Supt. Dennie B.

Willis to work with architects on plans to add nine or 10 rooms, plus administrative offices, to the school.

The building now under construction will contain 10 classrooms and a library for 275 seventh and eighth grade pupils. The new addition being planned will bring the capacity of the school up to 450. Eventually, the school will accommodate 1,000 pupils, Willis said.

The board also authorized the superintendent to prepare the necessary documents to apply to the state Department of Finance for purchase of a 17-acre site for a seventh and eighth grade school in Marinwood.

A policy on use of the multi-use room at Hoffman School—the first such room in the district—was adopted. All large meetings of youth groups and all large adult meetings will be scheduled in the multi-use room, the board decided. Other parent groups, however, may use classrooms.

The superintendent was authorized to employ an additional teacher if first-day enrollments today indicate overcrowding.

Test Slated On License Suspension

LONG BEACH (AP)—A test case is ready here on the question of whether the state Department of Motor Vehicles can suspend the licenses of motorists convicted of drunk driving regardless of what action the courts take.

Director Robert I. McCarthy of the state Department of Motor Vehicles has been ordered to appear in municipal court next Thursday to answer a contempt of court citation.

Two motorists, John Arthur Walters and Jack M. Baer, who pleaded guilty to misdemeanor drunken driving charges, have challenged the state's action in revoking their operators' licenses.

Municipal Court Judge Charles T. Smith put each on probation for a year and fined them $200 in lieu of 20-day jail sentences. In each case Judge Smith specifically recommended that their drivers' licenses not be revoked. They were first offenders.

But the Department of Motor Vehicles, under a new policy, revoked their licenses.

Austrian Boy Attending Redwood High Classes

Among students starting classes at Redwood High School today was Gernot Toufar, 16, from Klosterneuburg, Austria. An American Field Service Exchange student, Gernot will spend a year with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wulzen of Lagunitas road, Ross. The Wulzens have two sons at Redwood: Warren, a senior, and Alan, freshman. Mrs. Wulzen is Redwood's dean of girls.

The Austrian youth is the son of a policeman in the town about 10 miles from Vienna, famous for its well-preserved post-medieval cloister.

Gernot, who would be going into the seventh of eight forms preparatory to the university in Austria, will be taking junior and senior courses of Redwood. His first semester studies include Russian, U.S. history, problems of American democracy, chemistry, English and physical education. He has previously studied six years of English.

Admittedly overwhelmed by America and the Bay Area after only his first week, he declined to make comparisons or elaborate on impressions. He likes basketball and is an avid skier, he said, adding that he will probably exchange snow skiing lessons for water skiing lessons from the Wulzen boys.

NEW ZEALANDERS RALLY TO PLEAD FOR CHESSMAN

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—A committee has been formed here to plead for the life of Caryl Chessman, convict author who has spent 11 years in San Quentin Prison, under sentence of death for sex kidnappings.

His latest date with death is set for Oct. 23.

The move to get his sentence commuted has the support of a number of trade unions, womens' organizations and the Howard League for Prison reform. Several organizations have already written to Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California appealing for mercy.

Man Accused Of Firing Threatening Shots

Sausalito police hustled a young telephone company worker to jail last night after he allegedly took a pot shot at a driver whose speed, he said, disturbed him.

Edward Ashley Kemp Jr. of 66 Sycamore avenue, Mill Valley, was booked at the county jail on a charge of discharging a firearm within the Sausalito city limits.

Kemp was arrested in front of the Flamingo Club in Sausalito after a description of his car was given police by Russell Papenhausen of 509 Sausalito boulevard, Sausalito.

Kemp at first denied he had fired a gun, then said he had fired into a hillside near the Papenhausen home, after following Papenhausen along the Waldo Grade. He alleged that Papenhausen was speeding and that he didn't like it.

This is the story Papenhausen gave police:

About 10:45 p.m., he and his wife and son, David, were driving home and noticed in the vicinity of Marin City that they were being followed by a black station wagon. The car passed them, then stopped near the Monte Mar avenue bus stop. After the Papenhausen car passed, it again began to follow. It followed them to their home, passed them and made a turn at the end of the street.

Papenhausen turned the spotlight of his truck on the car and saw a man emerge from it. Then he heard a gun being fired. He turned off the light and ducked.

Police said when Kemp was picked up they found an unloaded .30 caliber carbine under the second seat of the car, and three clips loaded with ammunition.

The Papenhausen family identified Kemp's car as the one that had been following them.

Police said Kemp admitted following the Papenhausen car, and said he fired two rounds from his carbine.

He said he thought both bullets landed in a hillside. He said he tried to threaten Papenhausen for speeding.

Mob Attacks Policemen Who Arrested Youths

NEW YORK (AP)—A crowd of 300 attacked two policemen with soda bottles, stones and sticks last night when they arrested two teen-age gang members of a West Side street.

The arrested youths, Reuben Aguirre, 16, and Tomas Martinez, 18, were members of the Buccaneers gang. Other members of that gang were involved in the slaying of two 16-year-old boys in a Hell's Kitchen playground Aug. 30.

Patrolman Frank Pillar said he found about 20 boys gathered on a sidewalk and ordered them to disperse.

Pillar said young Aguirre, president of the Buccaneers, lunged for his nightstick and a shouting crowd gathered. Pillar held tight to Aguirre as Patrolman Richard Ware ran up. Ware waded into the crowd, while Pillar commandeered a passing car to take Aguirre to a police station.

Then, Ware withstood the barrage of hurled objects until seven radio cars arrived with reinforcements. It took nearly an hour to clear away the crowd.

Martinez, who was arrested for throwing a bottle, was charged with felonious assault. Aguirre was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

The police crackdown on young criminals, begun last Friday, has resulted in the arrest of more than 425 youths under 21.

On Staten Island, 30 young men and teen-agers strode into a police station demanding to know why two patrolmen had chased them from a candy store. They arrived in a motorcade.

Five were booked on disorderly conduct charges.

Police said they were "cocky" but orderly in the police station, and that the charges stemmed from their conduct at the candy store.

Two Marin Firms File Incorporation

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced Richard S. Harding and Associates, a Marin County soil and foundation engineering firm, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $50,000 in $1 par shares.

Train Strikes School Bus; 7 Kids Killed

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, Md. (P)—A St. Louis-to-Baltimore passenger train smashed into a loaded school bus at a grade crossing near this western Maryland resort community today. Seven of the 25 children on the bus were killed, and 15 more seriously injured.

The Baltimore and Ohio east-bound Diplomat knocked the bus on its side down the track about 8:30 a.m.

Visibility was good. The railroad said the signal light and bell marking the crossing were working.

Several reports indicated the bus stalled as it started across the track and that the driver had opened the door to try to get the children off the bus.

R. V. Morrow, one of the first at the scene, said he saw the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, and three or four boys walk out of the wreckage.

Ambulances took the victims to a hospital at Oakland about 40 miles east of Cumberland, Md.

The accident occurred about four miles south of Oakland. The bus had picked up the pupils from the rural area to the south and was transporting them to Southern High and Dennett Elementary schools at Oakland.

Scientists Eager To Study Space Capsule

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (P)—Scientists waited anxiously today to examine a one-ton model space capsule that survived a fiery re-entry through the earth's atmosphere.

The study is expected to provide valuable information for Project Mercury—the U. S. program designed to put a man in orbit within the next two years.

The capsule—the same size and shape as the vehicle which will be used on the first manned orbit—was being rushed to Puerto Rico early today by the Navy destroyer that plucked it from the Atlantic yesterday northeast of the West Indies island of Antigua.

An Air Force plane was ready to fly the capsule to Cape Canaveral late today or early tomorrow. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration may show it to newsmen after a preliminary study.

Later, the funnel-shaped capsule will be shipped to Langley Air Force Base, Va., for more detailed examination.

Scientists aboard the recovery ship reported the capsule was in excellent shape.

Atlas Firing Acclaimed As Historic Event

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (P)—The first firing of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile by Air Force combat troops was a success.

It added the 6,300-mile range weapon to the nation's missile arsenal.

The Atlas was fired over the Pacific yesterday by a crew of the 1st Ballistic Missile Division from this base. It was aimed at a spot near Wake Island, approximately 4,400 miles distant.

Gen. Thomas Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command, called the firing "a historical event."

Power did not disclose whether the Atlas hit its target but he said he was "more than well satisfied" with its performance.

Dental Unit Licenses Four Men In Marin

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state Board of Dental Examiners announced it has licensed 159 new dentists and 45 hygienists, following an examination on July 27, including four Marin County residents.

The Marin County licensees are William L. Jagger, 1020 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur; Rudy J. Kopfer Jr., 29 Peninsula Road, Belvedere; Robert P. Lewis, 1363 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, and Stanley S. Rutner, 1853 Fifth avenue, San Rafael.

Baby Girl Is Born To Wife Of Adman

A nine-pound baby girl was born early yesterday to Gussie Johnson, wife of Independent Journal display adman Robert S. Johnson.

The Johnsons, who live at 44 Clauson court in Novato, have an 18-month-old daughter, Melissa Beth. The new baby will be named Rachael Louise.

CANCER SURGERY OVER

Missionary Doctor To Return To Laos

NEW YORK (P)—One of the busiest men in New York City these days is Dr. Thomas Dooley, the missionary doctor who reluctantly left Laos to have a cancer operation.

Friends and associates are having little success in trying to keep the 32-year-old doctor from overdoing it in his rounds of newspaper interviews, meetings with officials from Laos, and other projects.

And it will be difficult to talk Tom Dooley out of his plan to go back to Laos in late November and take up his duties at his jungle hospital—no matter how hot the off-and-on shooting may have become.

The handsome crusader says his doctors agree with him. "They say they can't think of anything better for me," he said. "And they can't think of anything worse than sitting around New York worrying about cancer."

Dooley, who was treating 100 patients a day in his hospital at Muong Sing, near the Chinese border, left his hospital in the hands of native workers when tests showed a tumor in his chest wall was malignant.

He went to Memorial Hospital for an operation that involved massive tissue removal, and grafting of skin from his legs to his chest.

He walked out of the hospital nine days later—last Saturday—and went right back to work.

Work at the moment consists of telling everyone who will listen about the funds needed by Medico, or Medical International Cooperation, the private organization which built the hospital in Laos and many others in Asia.

In a few days he will go to Hawaii for sunshine and work on a book about Laos—again to get money for Medico. Then he will begin a month-long lecture tour—40 speeches in 40 cities—for the same purpose.

Dooley is thrilled by the United Nations consideration of the situation in Laos.

He feels it would be impossible to fight any kind of ordinary warfare in the "rain forest, deep jungle, high-flooded rivers" of northern Laos in the monsoon season.

Troops could only get in by parachute, he says, because the few airfields are nothing but mud now.

"But anything the U.N. does is good," he said. "We must show we do think about people who haven't got it so good."

Who could resist her ways of love?

Speaker Awaited By 'Mum Society

James Miller, plant-growing specialist of Birchlane Gardens, will explain feeding of blooms before show time at a meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin at 8 p.m. Monday at the First National Bank in San Rafael.

Chrysanthemums grown hydroponically will be a feature of this year's show Oct. 24 and 25 at the bank with "October Moon" as theme, "John Pockett" as theme flower, and "Powder Puff" as companion theme.

INDIA-CHINA CRISIS WORSE, SAYS NEHRU

Bitter Exchange Of Notes Over Border Disagreement Causes Increased Tension

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A bitter exchange of notes between India and Red China was laid before Parliament here today and Prime Minister Nehru said Premier Chou En-lai's latest letter adds to the gravity of the border crisis.

"Step by step their policy has become more rigid," Nehru said.

Each nation accused the other of aggression and each demanded that the other withdraw its forces from frontier areas whose ownership is in dispute.

But both sides renewed their claims to Longju, the isolated post which Red Chinese troops seized nearly two weeks ago in a gunfight with Indian frontier guards. The Chinese warned India against trying to retake it.

The seriousness of the situation is highlighted by Chou's letter, made public in Peiping yesterday, Nehru told the upper house of Parliament. With bristling finality, Chou rejected Indian protests against what Nehru called aggression in the Longju area.

A new aspect of the exchange, however, was the Indian offer to make Longju a temporary no man's land while the ownership of the area is discussed. Previous Indian statements have indicated the Chinese would be pushed out of the place unless they withdrew voluntarily.

The note was handed to the Communist Chinese ambassador here yesterday, the same day that Red Chinese Premier En-lai was making public in Peiping a letter accusing the Indians of aggression and demanding that they withdraw.

In the batch of papers opened in Parliament in advance of a debate on the border dispute, were four other notes from Peiping. One a week ago claimed Longju was on the Tibetan side of the border and charged that India committed "deliberate aggression" by maintaining troops there.

The note further charged that Indian troops "brazenly" occupied Chinese territory at several other points along the Tibetan border since June 28, thereby creating an "extremely dangerous" situation.

Another note charged Indian aircraft with six violations of the Communist Chinese borders since July.

In his letter Chou charged that Indians, not the Chinese, actually were the "trespassers" in border incidents, and were "shielding Tibetan rebel bandits" along the frontier. Many Tibetan refugees from Communist rule have fled to India.

The Soviet Union showed concern about the split between Peiping and New Delhi and appealed to both countries to "settle the misunderstandings that have arisen." The Soviets warned the West not to exploit the quarrel.

U.N. Aid Asked For Tibetans By Dalai Lama

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The Dalai Lama's urgent appeal for immediate intervention to stop Communist China's "wanton and ruthless murder of my people" lay before the United Nations today but no member state was eager to pick it up.

The 23-year-old god-king, from his exile in India, cabled Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld last night to ask for help from the general assembly.

He said Red Chinese forces had massacred thousands of innocent Tibetans and were sterilizing the men and women of Tibet in a drive to exterminate the race. Thousands had been dispossessed of their belongings and pressed into military construction gangs and thousands of Buddhist monasteries had been razed, the Dalai Lama said.

"Life and property are no longer safe, and Lhasa, the capital of the state, is now a dead city," the cablegram read.

India, whose relations with Red China now have ebbed to the point of border fighting, has persistently refused to carry Tibet's banner before the U.N.

Four Diplomats Picked To Probe Laos Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A four-nation team of top diplomats may fly to Laos tomorrow to investigate charges of Communist aggression in the tiny southeast Asia kingdom.

The special U.N. fact-finding subcommittee, created Tuesday by the Security Council despite Soviet protests, will fly to the Laotian capital of Vientiane, arriving there probably Sunday.

Heading the team will be Shinichi Shibusawa of the Japanese foreign office, his country's former ambassador to Thailand, Laos and Spain.

The others selected by their governments to do the actual field work are:

Ludovico Baratierrri, minister plenipotentiary of the Italian Foreign Office; Brig. Gen. Heriberto Ahrens, military adviser for the Argentine U.N. delegation; and Habib Bourguiba Jr., Tunisia's ambassador to France and son of the Tunisian president.

KNOWS HOW TO USE IT — This 10-year-old Laos boy says he knows how to use this weapon, a French automatic rifle which had been his father's and which boy brought with him to royalist area to keep the gun out of communist hands. The boy's father was wounded in fighting at Xieng Kho, near Vietnam border. The boy was among several who fled to Sam Neua when rebels overran the Xieng Kho post. (AP Wirephoto)

North Viet Nam Forces Attack Laos Army Posts

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Communist North Viet Nam troops crossed into Laos and attacked three army posts in Phong Saly province, the army said today. Government troops suffered losses but the number was not announced.

A communique said the three posts are clustered 20 miles inside the Laos border directly west of Dien Bien Phu, where the French army made its last bloody stand during the Indochinese war in 1954.

The attacks in the far northern province occurred Tuesday night but the news was not received at Vientiane army headquarters until today.

Transport planes continue to fly in U.S. emergency military aid, consisting chiefly of infantry weapons and ammunition.

Pros, Cons Of Terra Linda Bonds Debated By Panel

Terra Linda's proposed $350,000 recreation bond issue will provide a "better way of living for ourselves and our children" in one view, but the directors who planned it were guilty of "procrastination, poor planning, wishful thinking and undemocratic procedures" in another's opinion.

The contrasting points of view were presented by panelists discussing pros and cons of the bond issue today on the "Marin Sounding Board" program over radio station KTIM.

Residents go to the polls next Tuesday to accept or reject the bond issue.

The KTIM program will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. via tape recording.

Speakers in favor of the bond issue today were James B. Schryver, chairman of the Terra Linda Community Services District's recreation committee which worked up the plans, and Joseph R. Gunn III, services district director.

Mrs. William Davies and William Sievers, residents of Terra Linda, opposed the issue.

Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator, pointed out that if residents accept the bond issue, it will provide Terra Linda community swimming pools, play area, tennis courts and a community building.

Gunn said the district was striving for the basic facilities, professionally designed, to serve the athletic, cultural, education and social needs of most Terra Linda residents.

"In a larger sense, we are trying to provide a better way of living for ourselves and our children. We are striving for a solid future for Terra Linda as a community," he said.

Mrs. Davies contrasted the methods of planning the recreation program in Terra Linda and in a "comparable" community, Eichler Highlands in San Mateo County. She charged the Terra Linda board appointed an "amateur committee" which gave birth to the plan which we are told we must accept or get nothing. This plan was dictated to the architects."

She accused the board of directors of "procrastination, poor planning, wishful thinking and undemocratic procedures."

Mrs. Davies said Eichler Highlands already has its facilities, comparable to Terra Linda's proposals.

The Highlands' facilities cost about $175,000, including land, while the Terra Linda plans call for a cost of at least $350,000 excluding land, she declared.

Sievers, also opposing the issue, said many persons were going to vote for it although they were not satisfied with it. "They feel if they don't get this, they are likely not to get anything," he said.

In a questionnaire distributed to residents, 69 per cent of those answering indicated a desire to purchase land for the program, but the board decided not to buy land because it was too expensive, Sievers charged.

Schryver said that in terms of the total cost of the program, all recreation authorities who have seen the proposal or visited Terra Linda have given it their enthusiastic support.

The program will represent a "substantial saving" for even the most hard-pressed family budget and will add appreciably to the property value of every Terra Linda home, Schryver said. The cost for the average family will be less than $2 per month, and, with use of the swimming pool, less than $4 per month, he declared. The program provides for the needs of all ages, is flexible, and endorsed by experts, he concluded.

Planners Favor Keeping Ferry At Sausalito Slip

The romance of bygone days holds a lot of sway with members of the Sausalito City Planning Commission, or at least the majority of them.

The commission voted 4-3 last night to let the old ferryboat Berkeley stay at the old Sausalito ferry slip. This recommendation will go to the city council which will make the final decision Sept. 22.

The commission action was on a request from the city council which, according to planning Chairman Victor E. Hecht, had asked the planners to consider the ferry boat matter for policy.

The big boat has been acquired by Luther W. (Bill) Conover of the Trade Fair as a place of business.

Hecht said Commissioners Robert McCabe, Mrs. Ruth Sisson and Gilbert Murphy voted against the Trade Fair request because they feared the business would cause traffic congestion in the downtown area, and because they think it is the desire of most of the community to keep the waterfront property clear.

The request was supported by the chamber of commerce and many businessmen. Hecht said the commissioners had before them a total of 935 postcards favoring the request, and could find only one that opposed it.

"It was felt by many," Hecht said, "that the old boat would bring romance back to the city."

The planners recommended limiting use of the boat under the present request to three to five years, the exact time limit to be set later.

The Berkeley was one of the last boats on the ferry route between Oakland and San Francisco.

The planners delayed a decision on a request to permit several variances for construction of 63-unit apartment house on the Weber property at South and Second streets. Among variances requested were exceeding the city's height limit and construction of more than one building on a lot.

The meeting ran for six hours, from 8 p.m. until 2 this morning. Hecht said the commission, by law, had to adjourn at midnight and then reconvene.

BUT, FOLKS, IT JUST DOESN'T GO ANYWHERE

The folks from Iowa and Idaho don't know about it.

So they ask:

What time does it leave?

Where does it go?

Where do you buy a ticket and how much do they cost?

There are questions Sausalito police say are asked 50 to 60 times a day.

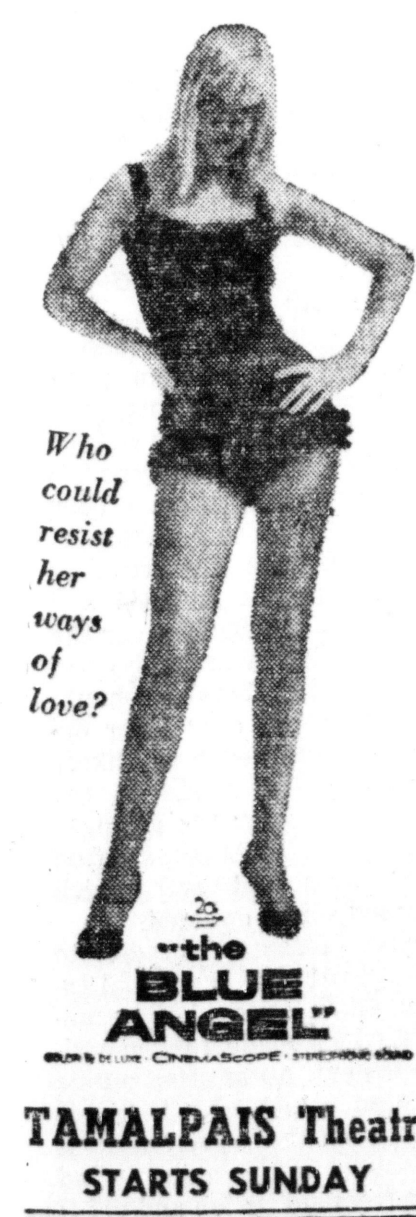

"They just don't understand—these tourists—that the ferry boat Berkeley doesn't go anymore," said Police Sgt. Stanley Kelly.

KTIM To Air Talk On Rapid Transit

An address by John Peirce, general manager of the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District, at a luncheon today at Bob's in Marin, will be broadcast at 6 o'clock tonight over radio station KTIM from a recording.

Peirce's topic was "Bay Area Rapid Transit, Past, Present and Future."

The luncheon was sponsored by the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, preceding the Rapid Transit District board's first meeting in Marin County this afternoon in the courthouse.

400 Anti-Bond Placards Torn From Poles

Four hundred hand-lettered placards placed on utility poles in Terra Linda last night by the Terra Linda Home Owners Assn. were torn down within an hour after they had been put up, the association charged today.

But association members were letter new placards today, "and we'll put them up again tonight and police them," declared Mrs. Harriet Willis, a spokesman for the group.

The placards attacked the proposed $350,000 Terra Linda recreation bond issue with such phrases as: "Don't Swim, Just Pay for 12; 'If You Can't Afford It, Move,' and 'Is It A Sale or a Sell-Out?'"

Mrs. Willis said the placards were placed between 9 and 11 p.m. and at 11:45 p.m. all of them had disappeared.

Banking Institute Will Dine Tonight

An annual get-acquainted dinner of the American Institute of Banking will be held at 6:30 p.m. today at Sabella's restaurant on Highway 101 near Mill Valley.

About 100 local bank employees are expected, said Barbara Henderson, secretary of the Marin group.

Milton Blackburn of Bank of America in San Francisco will speak on education in the banking business. The American Institute of Banking offers courses at College of Marin, scheduled to begin Oct. 1.

'WE MUST END WASTE' Brown Terms State Structure Outmoded

DAVIS (P)—"We must save money. We must cut out extra jobs. We must end waste."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown set forth that policy today in opening a two-day conference of his official family on a sweeping plan to reorganize the state government.

Eight months in office, the Democratic governor assailed the present structure as outmoded and inadequate.

"The fault," he told his department chiefs, "lies in a state government that consists of over 300 agencies, boards and commissions."

Brown called for a candid discussion of the tentative plan to abolish three constitutional offices and a dozen other agencies.

The report, by a special committee appointed by the governor, recommends grouping the state's operations under eight super-agencies.

Functions of the secretary of state, state treasurer, and the five-man Board of Equalization would be absorbed by regular state departments.

There was no estimation of how much the plan would save—or cost.

Brown told his appointees, assembled on the University of California campus here, that during his administration he wants a full and frank exchange of views.

"But when I have made a decision," he added, "I expect the aggressive and affirmative support of each of you."

"I never want feet dragging, and I want no conflicts between my departments that are not quickly resolved . . . I constantly want improvements and new ideas."

"I want no smug satisfaction with present levels of service or present standards of economy, and I want no uncritical contentment with present accommodations of existing policy."

The governor said he is hopeful of submitting a reorganization plan to the 1960 legislature.

He said he knows there will be objections, just as there have been on every attempt to overhaul the state government in past years.

"Special interest groups will urge that their interests are best served by autonomous boards," Brown said. "Others will feel that prestige requires the continuance of an agency directly responsible to the governor."

The program is proposed to be financed by a $350,000 bond issue on which Terra Lindans will vote Tuesday.

Floor discussion will follow the panel presentation by the five speakers, said Mrs. Harriet Willis of the Home Owners Assn.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Marin Display At State Fair Didn't Represent Our County

Last week we made a statement in this column which we acknowledged to have been in error. We stated that Marin's display at the State Fair in Sacramento would again this year be the model of the proposed civic center designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

We had been told this was being done; but we were wrong.

We're sorry we were wrong. Sorry we didn't get the right dope in the first place, but even sorer that it wasn't the civic center model on display.

This might indicate we're disappointed in the Marin exhibit. We certainly are. For years we've bemoaned the fact that Marin, with so much to offer, didn't offer it at the State Fair. This year, for the first time in many, many years, Marin had a display of its own.

But what we put on display wasn't representative of Marin County or its people.

The major portion of our exhibit deals with Marin City redevelopment. There is no explanation of what Marin City is or why it is being redeveloped, but there are a couple of models of how it will look and a lot of display board with printing on it telling about it.

But Marin City isn't Marin County! Then there are pictures of Hamilton Air Force Base and of our Nike sites.

But the military facilities are only a tiny part of Marin County!

There are some colored slides which keep changing in a black box. They show, we're told, pictures of the civic center plans, of Muir Woods and some of the county's beauties. We say we've been told what the pictures are because we couldn't tell by looking at them. There was so much light in the Counties Building, that the light behind the colored slides was nowhere's near adequate. Even knowing what the pictures were it was hard to figure them out.

Finally there were three little mechanical birds, about a foot high each, which turned to each other and spoke some words about how wonderful Marin County is. We didn't catch exactly what they said, but it didn't seem to matter much. It wasn't very profound.

Nowhere was there any indication of our people, our homes, our recreational advantages. Nowhere an invitation for other Californians to visit us either on vacation or come to live. It didn't even attract many of the fairgoers in to see the exhibit.

In short it was more than disappointing. It was downright unfortunate that our first attempt at a State Fair exhibit should miss the mark by so far.

Those Watering Blues

This is the time of year when people in Marin get what might be termed the "watering blues" or the "green grass jitters." Its symptoms are a tired expression when the word "lawn" is mentioned and an involuntary shudder at the sight of grass.

No doubt about it, Marin in September and October is a dry and thirsty land. Water as one will, the grass and flowers seem to wilt and cry out for more. This season keeps the irrigation expert of the family on his toes and busy.

There is some consolation for the sufferer of this exhausting malady. It is a temporary ailment. Before long Mother Nature will take over. Then he can sit back and listen to the rains doing his job for him.

With the arrival of the rains the cure will have been achieved.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Hey, Mr. President, Help! And Don't Forget To Send Plumber

NEW YORK (AP) — How do you go about getting President Eisenhower to declare your home a disaster area?

There is no point in our appealing to the Red Cross in this emergency. Too big a job. This is a federal case.

Our apartment looks as if it had been devastated by Hurricane Hortense. Actually, it's worse. We're having the place redone.

Well, here's the situation to date:

We called the Salvation Army to take away our old furniture, and they refused on two grounds: It either wasn't worth carting away, or if it was, it belonged in the Smithsonian Institution.

So we called a rubbish disposal man. He took one look at the debris and asked, "What are you storing here—surplus government wheat?" Then he left town on a long vacation.

Repainting a New York apartment is as ritualized as a Hopi rain dance ceremonial.

The painters refuse to enter until you first pile everything in a big heap in the center of the room. This is to save arguments. The painters then are entitled to any paint that falls on the floor—and you get to keep any paint that falls on your stacked up furniture.

My wife, Frances, is usually pretty good at dealing with workmen. This time she met her match.

"That painter won't listen to a thing I say," she complained. "He says he's 65 years old, and ready to quit anyway."

After he doused his brushes and left, Frances wasn't sure she liked her new color scheme. The bedroom of our 6-year-old daughter, Tracy, is pink, but it's a kind of throw-up pink. The bathrooms were supposed to be Mediterranean blue. They turned out poison bottle blue.

WORST OF ALL is one living room wall intended to be solid gold. The gold looks counterfeit. Soon as I got all my books back on the shelves, the paint inspector arrived and said our solid gold wall would have to be done over. Down came the books.

"I have to get rid of the old furniture before the new furniture comes," said Frances, who is alternately hysterical and trancelike with despair. "I don't know which way to turn."

MY WIFE is brooding about turning the key in the lock forever, buying a house in the suburbs—and starting life all over as a pioneer mother out where everyone's a peach and the subways don't reach.

If this isn't a federal disaster case, I never saw one.

Help, Eisenhower, help! And don't forget to send a plumber.

One of our faucets just sprung a leak.

BALTIMORE (AP)—For more than a year, Miss Odette Achain has received what appeared to her to be love letters from a gentleman in Tunisia, Africa.

The Tunisian hired a secretary to write his letters in what he thought was French. But Miss Achain reads French like a Frenchwoman—which she is—and knew the man was unaware of exactly what his secretary was writing.

Miss Achain explained the letters were coming in Petit Negre, which is elementary French as it is spoken in the colonies by the natives. So she asked her pen pal to forward some of his sentiments in his own hand.

He did. The letter came the other day, written in Arabic.

Afraid Of Truth In Terra Linda

EDITOR, Independent-Journal: Referring to Bertram S. Koel's answer in your Sept. 3 issue, in which he says "half truth." Apparently he didn't read Mr. Rodrigues' letter thoroughly. It stated "with interest" the total amount of the bonds would be about $700,000.

Anyone with a reasonable amount of intelligence can calculate this out. However, to rest his mind at ease, I too obtained this $700,000 figure right from none other than the "spark plug" himself of

STATE WATER BONDS? NO A Blank Check At One Man's Whim

(NOTE: This is the first of three articles by Assemblyman Bruce Allen (R, San Jose) opposing the $1,750,000,000 state water bond program on which Marin and all California voters will express an opinion next year. Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D, Compton) wrote three articles in favor of the bonds earlier this week.)

By BRUCE ALLEN

This bill is a "blank check," a pot of gold to be spent at the whim of one man, the Governor.

The bill appropriates to the administration (a) the entire 1 1/2 billion dollar bond issue, (b) project revenues, (c) the tidelands oil money, both from Long Beach and state operated tidelands, starting with the balance in the California Water Fund and continuing at an estimated 30 million dollars per year.

There is no itemization of the appropriation which instead is in a lump sum, continuing indefinitely.

THIS IS MUCH different from the typical appropriation we have known for capital outlay budget items, as for a state building, which remain effective without regard to fiscal years.

SB 1106 does not appropriate this money for an itemized schedule of construction, not for any previously authorized project.

No mention is made of the Feather River Project. The bill authorizes its own projects in such general language as "facilities for the generation and transmission of electrical energy!

WHILE THE GENERAL language describing the "state water facilities" is all-inclusive, the decision as to what of those facilities will be built, when and what size is placed in the hands of the governor. The "finance committee" established by the bill is controlled by the governor with two of his appointees, and the Water Department is controlled by the governor.

The attractive financing schedules released by the governor to the press, have no relation to SB 1106, were not presented to any legislative committee during hearings on the bill, and can and will be changed with ease by the governor from time to time.

NO OTHER PROGRAM in California government gives the governor such uncontrolled powers to reward his friends and punish his enemies. The welfare powers and the highway program are administered by boards operating under statutory formulas. The public school apportionment is pursuant to a complete formula set forth in the apportionment bill.

Who would think of turning over the 500 million dollar a year state highway fund over to the governor, to spend on any highways he likes? Or handing the 600 million dollar school apportionment fund to the governor to apportion according to his pleasure?

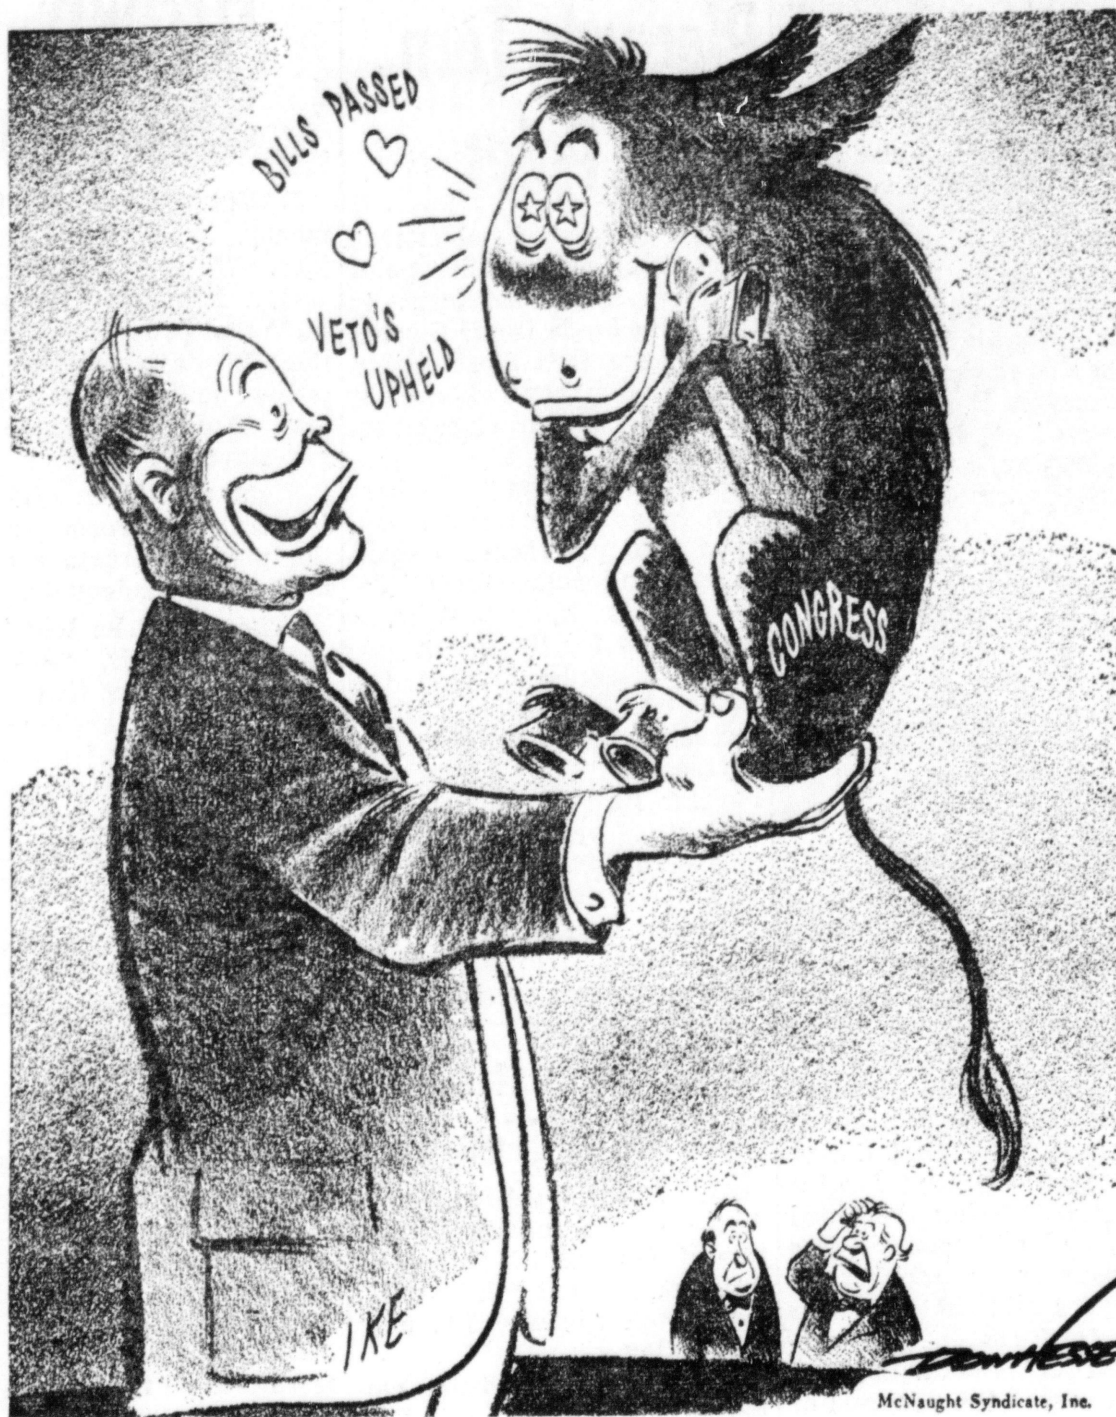

SB 1106 violates the most fundamental and cherished concept of our democratic form of government, the control of the purse strings by the legislative branch.

THERE IS NO assurance in this bill of water for anybody. SB 1106 doesn't even give a weak guarantee to any area that it will get water. Again, while the general language is comprehensive, there is no itemization, no schedule. The governor is free under the bill to give first class treatment to some section and to ignore others.

For example, in the 1956 and 1959 session, the water items in the proposed budgets omitted Santa Clara county, but the Legislature at the request of the county added funds to include this county.

(TOMORROW: Financing method is expensive.)

Tiburon Fire Board Snafu Resulted From Somebody Not Telling Others

The big snafu over an appointment to the Tiburon Fire Protection District's board of commissioners this week was laid squarely on the doorstep of that very board of commissioners.

"I think in many ways I'm responsible for all of this," said Fire Commissioner Fred Hannahs to the County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday. The supervisors were inclined to agree with him.

IT SEEMS THAT when Howard McGill resigned from the commission, Mrs. Vera Schultz, Southern Marin supervisor, asked Hannahs to have the fire commission forward to her a recommendation for McGill's replacement.

The board of supervisors has the responsibility of filling such vacancies on fire commissions in between elections.

When the fire commission met on Aug. 3, its members decided to start feeling around for public sentiment before making a recommendation to the supervisors.

"We had the impression we had three or four months," reported Edward J. Parnell, a Tiburon volunteer fireman.

UNFORTUNATELY, NO ONE notified the supervisors of the fire commission's plans. "It had wide publicity in the I-J," explained Parnell.

The publicity apparently was not quite wide enough. Both Mrs. Schultz and Chairman Walter Castro said that this particular report escaped their notice.

"Don't you think it was up to your board to communicate with us?" asked Mrs. Schultz.

"Yes," replied Hannahs. "Then I don't think there is any reason for this vitriolic denunciation of the board of supervisors," declared Mrs. Schultz.

For three weeks the appointment of a Tiburon Fire Protection commissioner appeared on the supervisors' agenda. At the third meeting, with several letters, a resolution from the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. and a petition with 79 signatures favoring appointment of Fred Mantegani, in hand, Mantegani was appointed.

THEN RECRIMINATIONS began. It turned out that the remaining fire commissioners wanted R. L. (Dick) Williamson to be appointed.

"I think what we're guilty of is political amateurism," said Parnell, in assessing the whole situation.

He and Hannahs were informed by the supervisors that the supervisors' appointment of Mantegani could not be retracted.

THE ANNOUNCED plans of the Tiburon fire commission to recall Mantegani so that the community can express itself on his appointment are of hazy legality.

County Clerk George S. Jones said: "You can't recall a man within six months after he is elected to office and I think it is the same for an appointee. I don't think they can file a legal petition for recall at this time."

Mantegani was appointed Sept. 1. He attended his first meeting of the commission last night.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND New Labor Control Bill Reflects Congress, Democracy At Their Best

The strong and constructive labor reform law, which is finally emerging, marks the high point of achievement of the present session of Congress.

Many thought that in the end there would be no bill passed at all, that everything would founder in a pre-election-year deadlock. Few believed that a really good bill would survive.

There is labor reform legislation and it is good legislation. As a beginning toward assessing the credit and the political consequences, it is fair, I think, to put down the following:

THE NEW LABOR reform bill reflects Congress at its best.

It shows the power of public opinion which enabled the members of Congress to resist special-interest pressure groups which wanted either no law or a weak law.

It is a major political victory for the Eisenhower administration because the bill closely follows the President's long-pressed recommendations.

It is a major political liability to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts who, though he has conducted himself very responsibly, will almost certainly be the target of the angered labor leaders who may have the power of veto over his effort to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

THOSE WHO ARE subject to reform legislation are never happy at the reforms, at least not at first, whether they be the public utilities or the Stock Exchange or the labor unions.

Apparently the union leaders, who are attempting to brand the new law as "anti-labor," "punitive," and a "killer" law, are going all out to purge every member of Congress who voted for it.

It seems to me that A. F. of L.-C. I. O. President George Meany's Labor Day statement is as intemperate as James Carey's letter to the Congressmen who voted for the Griffin-Landrum bill, threatening them with political extinction. He talks about a conspiracy "to destroy our labor movement" and announces that at last and "reluctantly" the unions are going to have to get into politics! As if the unions were not already in politics up to their armpits—as is entirely proper.

This is not new and doesn't look reluctant. When labor sets out to punish those who don't always vote its views, it will, I suspect, encounter the kind of public opinion that demanded the labor reform bill Congress is passing.

SENATOR KENNEDY is in a vulnerable position. He contributed a great deal to bringing a sound bill out of the House-Senate conference. It seems unfair that he is likely to lose both ways.

Let me explain. Kennedy's first and big problem is to get nominated. At this point the labor leaders may well be able to exert a veto over the senator's nomination. They were able to veto James F. Byrnes for the vice presidential nomination in 1944 and to veto Alben Barkley for the presidential nomination in 1952. But if Kennedy should be nominated over labor opposition, the voters will likely give principal credit to the Republicans for the stronger bill which the Administration long supported and which Kennedy first opposed.

Give foremost credit to Congress itself. Senatorial investigation exposed the scandals which made reform visibly urgent. An aroused public opinion shielded Congressmen from the special-interest pressures of the unions—and Congress did its job and did it well.

EGGHEAD BEAUTY

Marin Woman Featured In Look Photos

A Mill Valley woman, called a beautiful egghead, is featured in a five-page section of the Sept. 29 issue of Look Magazine, which is devoted almost entirely to explaining modern California.

The magazine says Sumire Hasegawa Jacobs, 24, is an exception to the contention that "culture is a big pretense" in the San Francisco area.

She is described as an Eurasian beauty who spends part of her time at her husband's Sausalito studio recording Japanese poetry records with Mill Valley's Zen Buddhist author Alan Watts.

Jacobs is an executive of MEA Records. Pictures accompanying the article show Mrs. Jacobs at the recording studio, swinging in her yard, cutting her husband's hair, cooking curry, and relaxing at Big Sur where, the magazine says, the Jacobses are friends of the literary nabobs of that area, including Henry Miller.

The magazine says Mrs. Jacobs is a daughter of Japanese teacher Sabro Hasegawa.

TROPHIES FOR SCIENCE SHARKS

Gordon Chan of San Anselmo, science instructor at Sir Francis Drake High School, showed up for the opening of school with some picturesque trophies he obtained at Monterey. They are the jaw—with teeth—and the tail of a 400-pound, eight-foot great white shark (the man eater) taken off Monterey and dissected by Chan on the municipal wharf there. He also brought the shark's brain. It's only two and one-half inches long. Chan did marine biology research during the summer under a National Science Foundation grant.

Sausalito Man Forms Boat Storage Concern

A Sausalito business developer today announced formation of a firm to handle dry land storage of boats, that may be extended to include port cities from Seattle to San Diego.

Fred H. Filder, of the Sales Network, 3030 Broadway, Sausalito said Sausalito would be headquarters for Shoreports, Inc. Filder said the objective will be "to meet the popular demand of the area's sportsmen and boating families, as well as the community's pressing need for off street storage facilities for small boats."

Filder said approximately 20 acres of shore property in the Bay Area eventually will be leased for boat storage.

Shoreports Inc. has leased three acres on Bridgeway boulevard, in two parcels near Filder's Sales Network.

Filder said Shoreports, which also has been appointed dealer for Southern Marin for Johnson Motors, has opened the land to both open and enclosed storage.

The type of covering to be used and the amount of it, he said, will depend on the demand. Boat owners will be able to store their boats, and while the boats are in use, can store their cars.

President of the new corporation is L. L. Olds of San Rafael, long active in Bay Area yachting circles. Filder said James E. Fields of Sausalito will be manager.

Board Approves County Planners' Recommendations

Seven recommended adjustments submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors by the County planning commission received the supervisors' approval Tuesday, along with three other commission decisions.

The approved adjustments were in favor of Albert and Gladys Gadoury, J. C. Badagliacco, Mitchell L. Nastich, Charles W. Callister, Eichler Homes, Inc., Frederick G. Zelinsky and Marin Oaks Development Co., Loma Verde.

Two items were set for 2 p.m. hearings Sept. 29, a requested Hutchinson Co. reclassification of a 25-acre marshland tract beside Corte Madera creek to light industrial and a resolution of intent concerning Marin Golf and Country Club Estates No. 2.

The supervisors accepted amendments to the Marin Oaks master plan, reported to be favored by all parties, though the formality approving by resolution was postponed to next week since text of the resolution had not been prepared.

THE SHORT AND THE LONG—Shortest girl in the Miss America pageant is Miss Atlantic City, Phyllis Geraldine, who is only five feet, two inches tall, with measurements of 35-21-34. Tallest is Miss Florida, Nancy Purvis, who is five feet, nine inches tall, with measurements of 35½-23½-36. Miss Atlantic City serves as hostess and is not eligible for the Miss America title. 3 Beauties Tie For Talent At Miss America Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—An unprecedented three-way tie climaxed the talent competition of the Miss America pageant last night.

Talent winners were Miss Pennsylvania, Miss Connecticut and Miss District of Columbia. At the same time, Miss Washington took the swimsuit award.

Miss Pennsylvania, 21-year-old Lois Janet Piercy of Springfield, Pa., won the judges' favor in art and music.

Miss Piercy displayed a large oil painting. She sat next to it and played an original composition on the flute.

A tractor figured in Miss Connecticut's efforts.

Spectators craned their necks as Diana Martha Klug, 21, of Torrington, Conn., rumbled on stage atop a tractor.

Miss Klug then presented a dream skit which presented her as a farm girl aspiring to wear other-than-farm-girl clothing.

Virginia Noble Pailles, blonde, 21-year-old Miss District of Columbia, won acclaim for her rendition of "It All Depends on You." Miss Pailles wore a floor-length pink chiffon sheath.

Miss Washington, Sharon Joyce Vaughn, 21, of Seattle won the swimsuit competition in a white bathing costume. Miss Vaughn is a senior at the University of Washington.

On Saturday night, Miss America herself will be crowned as successor to this year's title holder, Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss. With the title goes $10,000 in scholarships and an estimated $75,000 in personal appearance dates.

To be listed on the New York Stock Exchange, a company must have earning power of over one million dollars annually; must have tangible assets of over eight million dollars; and must have at least 400,000 common shares outstanding.

Chevrolet Releases Details Of Corvair

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet officially joined the small car battle today with details on its new Corvair, America's first car with the engine in the rear.

Ford unveiled its small Falcon a week ago. Still to come from the big three automakers is Chrysler's Valiant. It will be along in November. The Corvair will go on sale Oct. 2; the Falcon on Oct. 9.

The Corvair has an air-cooled, six-cylinder engine made mostly of aluminum. This engine is mounted in what up to now always has been the trunk compartment on American cars. The location is the same as in the Volkswagen and Renault, the two sales leaders among foreign cars.

The Corvair will be built at first only in four-door sedan models. These will weigh 2,375 pounds. They will be 15 feet long, about two and one-half feet shorter than the 1959 Chevrolet; four feet, three inches high and five feet, seven inches wide. It will have about 90 horsepower. A two-door model will be offered early next year.

Like the other two new compact cars, the Corvair will have a unitized body—a one piece unit rather than a body shell bolted to a frame. Rambler also uses this type of body construction.

Ed Cole, Chevrolet's general manager, told a national press preview today that the Corvair will get 25 to 40 per cent better mileage than the standard Chevrolet six-cylinder model.

For its Falcon, Ford claimed 50 per cent better mileage than any current production car and also claimed up to 30 miles to a gallon of regular gas.

Cole made no specific miles-per-gallon claim.

He said Chevrolet expects to sell 300,000 Corvairs in 1960 and at the same time predicted standard Chevrolet sales of about one and one-half million. So far in 1959 Chevy sales are running at a rate slightly less than one and one-half million.

This means Cole expects Chevrolet dealers will be able to sell Corvairs without harming their sales of standard models.

KTIM To Broadcast School Bus Information

To help alleviate confusion about school bus schedules on the opening days of school, radio station KTIM, in cooperation with school districts of Marin County, will broadcast information about changes and mixups in bus schedules tomorrow and Monday mornings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Bill Thompson, program director, said information about delays or changes in schedules will be broadcast as soon as received from school district offices.

LITTERALLY HOIST BY HIS OWN PETARD

ST. IVES, England (UP)—Nicholas Phillips, alderman and deputy mayor of St. Ives, undertook a relentless war on litterbugs in his capacity as chairman of the town's public health committee.

Yesterday, St. Ives had its first prosecution under the litter act. Nicholas Phillips was fined $5.60 for dumping waste on the city's beach.

Larkspur Building Totals $195,789

Permits for construction jobs totaling $195,789, including eight one-family homes valued at $169,934, were issued in Larkspur last month by building inspector William F. Wegner.

The August total was up $42,168 over July, but down $149,402 from August, 1958, when permits were issued for two apartment projects.

Motherwell Admits Being In California

ATLANTA (AP)—Larry Lord Motherwell, who helped a wealthy widow have her last fling, admits he was in California the last time she was seen alive.

Asked at an extradition hearing yesterday whether he was in California Aug. 15, 1958, the last time Mrs. Pearl Ida Putney of Washington, D.C., was seen alive, Motherwell replied in a low voice: "Yes, sir, I was."

Motherwell maintains that the 72-year-old woman was still alive then.

California has asked Gov. Ernest Vandiver to return Motherwell for trial on murder.

Motherwell's attorneys said he would return voluntarily if permitted to do so. They said, however, that if Vandiver grants California's request for custody, they will give serious study to fighting extradition.

2 Suspects Arrested In Little Rock Bombings

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A segregationist leader and a truck driver were charged today with three Labor Day bombings linked with Little Rock's school integration battle.

The segregationist is E. A. Lauderdale Sr., a 48-year-old lumber dealer. His arrest followed that of J. D. Sims, a 35-year-old truck driver.

Each was held in jail under $50,000 bond on charges of destroying property with explosives, a felony which could mean as much as five years imprisonment and a $500 fine for each.

A second truck driver, Jessie R. Perry, was also arrested. No charges were filed against him.

Lauderdale long has been active in the segregationist Capital Citizens Council. He was twice defeated for the city manager board, once in a close race with Werner C. Knoop, now mayor.

Knoop's office was one of three places bombed Monday night. The others were the school board's administrative building and Fire Chief Gann Nalley's official car. The car was blown up in Nalley's driveway as he and his family were asleep.

Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation had moved in the closest secrecy. Sims' arrest came Tuesday afternoon but it was not disclosed until his attorney sought his release late yesterday through habeas corpus proceedings.

Amis Guthridge, attorney and a spokesman for the Citizens' Council, said Mrs. Sims had retained him to represent the truck driver.

Lauderdale's arrest was disclosed by police after Guthridge and two other segregationists went to the police station yesterday night and demanded to see him and Sims.

Guthridge quoted Lauderdale as emphatically denying any connection with the bombings.

Mays Dazzles Bucs On Base Paths

You've got to play heads-up baseball against the National League leading San Francisco Giants, especially when Willie Mays is on base.

The Pittsburgh Pirates discovered that yesterday as they dropped a 7-2 decision. The Giants maintained a three-game lead over Milwaukee and Los Angeles.

Here was the situation: Pitcher Jack Sanford was on third, Mays on second and Willie McCovey on first. There was one out with Orlando Cepeda batting and the Giants ahead 2-1.

Cepeda hit a bouncer to shortstop Dick Groat who threw to second baseman Bill Mazeroski to force McCovey.

Mazeroski relayed to first baseman Dick Stuart as Sanford broke. Mays didn't break stride as he rounded third and headed for home. Mazeroski's throw didn't get Cepeda and by the time Stuart realized what was happening, Mays had scored from second on a force out.

"I knew where the ball was all the time," the fleet center fielder declared. "I could have stopped at third. I gotta do something, I'm not hitting."

Mays earlier had belted his 27th homer, but his average is only .298 compared with the .347 that put him second in the league in 1958.

"He was really flying, wasn't he," Manager Bill Rigney remarked of the base running. The Giants, who collected their seven runs on just seven hits, gave Sanford his 13th victory against 12 setbacks. Harvey Haddix, the loser, is now 11-11.

Johnny Antonelli, 19-7 for the season and 3-1 against the Pirates, pitched for the Giants today against Vern Law, who is 15-9 and 2-1.

Bob Porterfield, a Pittsburgh reliever in the last game, walked in a pair of runs. Two Giants, Sanford and McCovey, were hit by pitched balls but neither was hurt.

McCovey, who was walked twice, collected a single marking the 21st consecutive game in which he has hit. The club's record is 24.

Sanford needed relief from Stu Miller in the eighth after a walk and two hits that produced a run. Miller set the Pirates down without further damage, aided by the third San Francisco double play of the afternoon.

Danny O'Connell, the latest tried at third base after Jimmy Davenport's injury, came through with a double for the Giants and also helped make the twin killings possible.

"With him playing in there, shortstop Eddie Bressoud can play a little closer to second," Rigney asserted.

By JIM GILMARTIN

Don't Overlook Eddie Bressoud In Balloting For Giants' MVP

This is the time of year everyone starts thinking about baseball honors — Most Valuable Player, rookie standout, shrewdest manager, goat of the year, bat boy of the year, etc., etc.

Best local guessing game at the moment is selecting the Giants' most valuable player.

Now, there is a touchy problem. So many men have played key roles in San Francisco's pennant drive that a two or even three-way tie for MVP honors is not unlikely.

Sam Jones and Johnny Antonelli have been great on the mound. Then there's Orlando Cepeda with his high rbi total and Willie McCovey with his batting streak.

One man who shouldn't be overlooked in the balloting, however, is Eddie Bressoud, a guy who couldn't even win a varsity letter in 1958.

The slender infielder, in our estimation is THE man who knitted the Giants into their first place position. Shortstop is the key position on a ball club. A novice on the job can ruin any club. Andre Rodgers resembled a soccer player when Bill Rigney gave him the SS post at the start of the season. Poor Andre booted the ball all over the lot and the Giants were hurting. Their great pitching was going down the drain. No one had confidence in Rodgers, especially his double-play partner, Daryl Spencer. Big D just didn't feel smooth working the DP. Rather than the one, smooth double-play execution, the Rodgers-Spencer combo was jerky and deliberate.

Well, things got so bad Rigney had to push the panic-button and Bressoud responded beautifully. The defense jelled and things began to click for the 16th and Bryant streeters. Bressoud's play is largely responsible for the Giants' position today.

Sure, the pitchers and hitters have done their share, but it all would have been wasted

Horsemen To Discuss Rules For Trail Rides

Rules for trail rides will be discussed by the San Geronimo Valley Horsemen when they meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Lagunitas School. The group plans to have a speaker on "trail manners," said Mrs. Marietta Larsen.

On Sept. 26 an overnight ride to the Bolinas Ridge is planned. It will start from the horsemen's playfield near Woodacre at a time yet to be set.

Fair Rodeo Starts

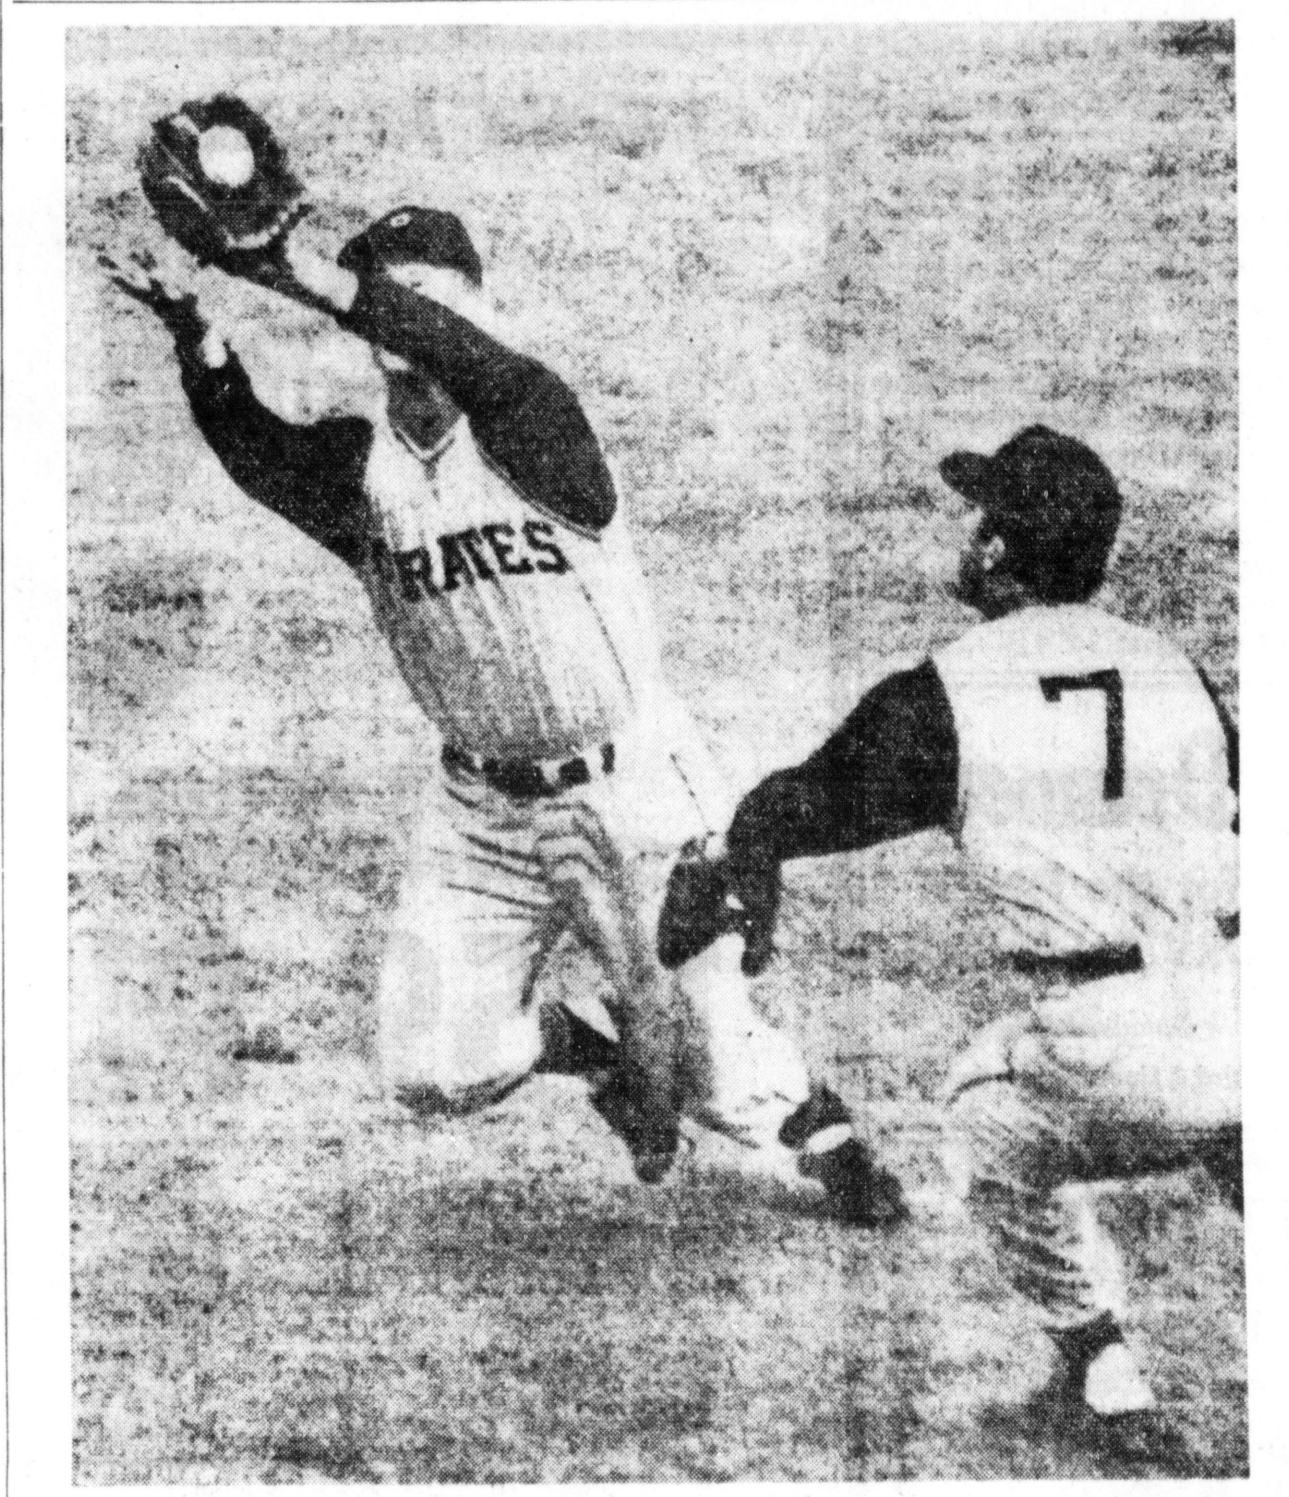

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A four-day rodeo, first in California State Fair history, opens tonight with 75 cowboys shooting for about $7,500 in prize money.

But before the cowboys start contesting with 150 head of rodeo animals, they will have a queen—Miss Rodeo of California.

She is to be chosen from a group of six girls who have won queen honors at regional rodeos around the state this year.

In keeping with the rodeo, today at the fair is designated Western Day. Rotary and garden clubs, radio, and the cities of Davis, Dixon and Lodi also are having a day.

Time Running Out On Indians In A.L. Race

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

You might say the Cleveland Indians have been streaking along at a standstill in that American League pennant chase.

They've won six in a row, seven of their last eight and 15 of the last 20.

Yet the Indians are right where they were when they started—4½ games behind Chicago's first-place White Sox.

The Tribe has lost only five times in 20 games since dropping four in a row and falling 4½ games behind Chicago on August 18. But those five defeats have kept them on a treadmill, for it was the White Sox who handed Cleveland all five.

The Sox, who have a 17-7 record in that same span, won their fourth in a row and reduced their magic number to 12 by beating Washington 5-1 last night as the two contenders opened their last trips through the East.

Cleveland stayed with 'em by sweeping a two-night double-header at Baltimore, beating the Orioles 3-2 and 4-1.

Still, any combination of 12 Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats will give the White Sox their first pennant in 40 years. Chicago has 15 games left, Cleveland 16.

Marin Star Gets Shot At Cal QB Post

BERKELEY — The injury-ridden California Bears took it easy yesterday as Coach Pete Elliott continued to shuffle his players before the opener against Washington State.

The Bears went through a short workout in the morning, then Elliott called off the scheduled afternoon session. Thirteen players are on the injured list.

Elliott moved senior Ken Mead of Sausalito into the first team quarterback slot, left open by the injury of Wayne Crow. Sophomore guard Norm McLean and junior guard Dick Carlson also worked out with the first team for the first time yesterday.

Mead is a former Tamalpais High School star. He and Dave George of Mill Valley, an end, expect to see considerable action with the Bears this season.

STANFORD—The Stanford Indians stressed passing yesterday and both quarterbacks came through with solid performances.

Coach Jack Curtice praised the work of quarterback Dick Norman and his understudy, Rod Sears. Ends Chris Burford and Ben Robinson did most of the receiving.

Fullback Archie Schmidt and center Doug Purcell both missed yesterday's workout, but are expected to be ready for Saturday's game-type scrimmage.

STOCKTON — Flashy Dick Bass' replacement at College of the Pacific is also a frisky performer.

Halfback Herman Urenda sped 65 yards and 3 yards to touchdowns in a tuneup scrimmage yesterday while Bass nursed a pulled muscle. Urenda paced the varsity to a 24-6 victory over the reserves. Bass led the nation in 1958 in total offense, scoring and rushing.

The Tigers play an intrasquad game at Sacramento tomorrow night.

BIG GAMES, BIG HITS Bums, Braves Stay On Giants' Heels

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

One play, or one game. Even one hit. That may be the difference, the turning point in the National League's three-way scrap for the pennant. And that one game, that one play or that one hit may have put away last night.

The big game went to Don Drysdale, the right-hander who had lost six in a row and was on the spot in any hopes for a flag for Los Angeles. He junked the slump, with his first victory in a month, getting it with a three-hitter that beat Philadelphia 1-0.

The big play was Wally Moon's, giving Drysdale and the Dodgers their run. He did it with nifty base-running, moving from first to second on a foul pop—and then scoring on Gil Hodges' single.

The big hit was Bobby Avila's—a grand-slam homer in the ninth that boosted Milwaukee's Braves, pressing for a winning streak, to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis after they had been held to two hits for eight innings.

That left the Braves and the Dodgers in a tie for second, three games behind San Francisco. The Giants kept that edge by whipping Pittsburgh 7-2.

Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs twice, winning the opener 4-2 in 10 innings and the nightcap, held to five innings because of darkness, 7-2.

Drysdale (16-12) was tagged for two triples by Joe Koppe and Ed Bouche and hit three batters, but he didn't walk a man and struck out 11.

His one jam came in the seventh, when an error and two hit batters loaded the bases with two out. But Drysdale then fanned Carl Sawatski.

Moon's run came in the sixth. He opened with a single and made his move when Norm Larker, trying to bunt, popped foul. Sawatski shoved past the plate umpire, Tony Venzon, and made a diving stab of the ball. Before the Phils' catcher could get up, Moon was off, just beating Sawatski's throw to get into scoring position for Hodges' single.

Taylor Phillips (1-6) lost it, coming on in the second after starter Jim Owens injured his arm.

Avila's shot, his third home run, gave Warren Spahn his 19th victory. Ernie Broglio (6-12) had held the Braves hitless from Joe Adcock's 23rd home run in the second inning until Adcock singled leading off the ninth. Then Johnny Logan and Del Crandall singled, loading the bases with one out and setting up Avila's third major league slam.

The Cards scored in the second when Ken Boyer singled and Broglio lined a two-run single after an intentional walk loaded the bases.

Road Users Taxes Total $30 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPD) — State Controller Alan Cranston said today that California motorists paid $30,345,880 in highway users taxes during August.

Of the total amount, $25,811,405 was paid in gasoline taxes. The rest came from diesel fuel tax, the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund and miscellaneous sources.

Majors Should Increase Player Limit To Solve Schedule Problem

The National League schedule is somewhat like the weather. Everybody complains about it, but nobody seems to be able to do anything with it.

There are only two things that can be done about it, if I may be so bold to state.

One is the schedule might be cut to fewer games; the other is for league moguls to increase the player limit so that during the "dog days" of August and September managers will have enough players to go around.

If the moguls cut the number of games played each season it will hurt real bad because of the heavy transportation costs, so the next best thing might be to increase the player limit.

Bill Rigney, boss of the Giants, could have used a couple of more infielders and two or three extra pitchers, if he wasn't hampered by the 25 player limit rule.

With the two far western clubs, Dodgers and Giants, the schedule makers rant and rave. They can fix up a much nicer schedule, but it would be so fantastic in a price range for chartered airplanes that they just tell the magnates, "take it or leave it."

ANOTHER escape, of course, would be to get a club in Oakland or one in the northwest, and in that way the tariff on trips would be considerably easier.

But as long as there are only eight clubs in the circuit, and so long as they insist on playing 154 games, there isn't much relief in sight.

The moguls themselves are to blame for some of the schedule mixups. None of 'em want a series to be any longer than three games. They say a five-game series is too much, and the fans tire after two or three games watching the same athletes do their stuff against each other.

It was a five-game series in 1958 between the Giants and Milwaukee that ruined the chances of the Rigney men. This year it may be only a two or three-game set. And it doesn't have to be with Milwaukee either. It could be the Cubs, Pirates or Dodgers.

THE GIANTS seem to make their biggest and most costly mistakes against the top three clubs. If they boot things against the Cards, the Reds or the Phils, it doesn't cut so deeply as it does with the real threat clubs.

Rigney doesn't like to say much about the scheduling problem of the Giants. But I really believe it occurred the day he was ordered by Warren

CONNOLLY

Giles, president of the National League, to play that double header against the Phils.

There wasn't much he could do but I believe if he had it to do over again he would balk and go right down to the supreme court of baseball to point out his "beef."

IF THE National League prexy had ordered one game it wouldn't have been too rough, but to decree a double-header to an already exhausted team, was asking too much. Recent events prove it.

Postponed games have, down through the ages, been a lift, sometimes a disaster at other times.

Why can't somebody come up with a happy medium over postponed games and see that it doesn't penalize anybody.

I've thought about it, but can't find a real stand-up excuse, except to say I'd like to see the National League prexy and owners "forget Philadelphia" altogether. It's the only way to escape "hell's kitchen" in August or September.

Testimonial Set For Colon Kilby, Ex-Vallejo Coach

Colon O. Kilby, long one of northern California's most successful high school football coaches, will be honored at a retirement dinner in Vallejo next Tuesday night.

Kilby turned out many outstanding football players during his 36 years as coach and athletic director at Vallejo High School, including All-Americans Bill Corbus of Stanford and Vic Bottari of California. His teams won 13 North Bay League championships and he compiled a record of 193 victors against only 48 defeats and 20 ties.

The stag testimonial dinner will be held in the giant exposition hall at the Solano County Fairgrounds. A turnout of more than 500 is expected for the affair.

Champ Brown Running Out Of Top Opponents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown, who once thought of stepping up a division, said today he is satisfied to stay in the 135-pound class "even though I may be running out of opponents."

The hard-hitting champion last night scored a fourth round technical knockout over Canadian Welterweight Champion Gale Kerwin in a nationally-televised, non-title 10-round fight.

"I've been making the lightweight limit easy," Brown said, "even though I was overweight last night." Brown weighed in at 140 for the Kerwin fight.

"I've just about run out of opponents by fighting so much," Brown said, "although the NBA (National Boxing Association) will keep 10 fighters up there for me."

Brown said he will fight in Albuquerque, N.M., on the 25th of this month and will defend his title in Houston, Tex., in December, probably against Dave Charnley of England.

Hunter Training Course Saturday

Marin County Sheriffs Junior Rifle Club will conduct a six-hour course in hunter safety beginning Saturday, Executive Officer John E. Tucker announced today.

Open to boys and girls, the course will be held at the Marin County Police Range, San Rafael, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. this

WARNER GRID OPENERS IN MARIN SUNDAY

Marin County's Pop Warner Conference junior football program opens with a bang Sunday as two games are scheduled at College of Marin's gridiron in Kentfield.

The opener at 1 p.m. will match the Redwood Junior Giants against San Rafael. At 3:30 p.m. Mill Valley will tangle with San Anselmo.

The double-header is a benefit for the Marin Boys Club.

Saturday and the same hours on Sept. 19.

Each student must pay a registration fee of $1, Tucker said.

Norton Fails To Show For Football Squad

SAN JOSE (AP)—Bob Titchenal, San Jose State football coach, says he is not going to "bow and scrape or pressure" track star Ray Norton to join his squad.

The coach said last night that Norton would not be carried on a football scholarship if he didn't play, adding that possibly the ace sprinter doesn't need financial help. "I heard he was shopping around for a sports car," the coach said.

Norton, a winner of three gold medals in the recent Pan American Games and a leading U.S. hopeful in the 1960 Olympics, has been urged to bypass the gridiron this year to avoid possible injury that might affect his performance in the Olympics. Titchenal said the 6-foot-2 Oaklander agreed to watch practice and have dinner with the squad, but failed to show at either event.

"I told him he'd have to let me know by tonight and he didn't," said the coach, "so I take it he is not coming out for football. As far as I'm concerned the case is closed."

"I felt all along we'd have a good football team with or without him . . . he'd have to go some to beat out Oneal Cutery, anyhow."

Titchenal had left the right halfback position open pending Norton's return from the Chicago games, but now has moved Mac Burton into the position from the flanker post.

49ers Juggle Lineup For Rams Game

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers sent his squad through two workouts yesterday in an effort to bolster both the offense and defense for Saturday's exhibition game against the Los Angeles Rams.

Three more players will be out after the Ram game, Hickey said, with four more to go the following week.

Hickey said J. D. Smith would probably be the starting fullback in Saturday's game because of veteran Joe Perry's ankle sprain. Defensive back Dick Moegle will get a crack at offense, while regular halfback Jim Pace takes a shot at the fullback slot.

Junior World Series

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — The 1959 American Legion junior baseball Little World Series title is on the line tonight in a second straight game between Detroit, the pre-tourney favorite, and Phoebus, Va. Detroit beat the club from the little Virginia suburb of Hampton last night, 5-3. It was the first defeat for Phoebus and evened the teams at 2-1.

REQUIEM FOR A 'RUNAWAY'

Rise And Fall Of New York Yankees

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Requiem for a "runaway":

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. March 20 (UPI)—Manager Casey Stengel of the World Champion New York Yankees said today he had so many fine young players that some being returned to the minors could play for "any other major league team."

BALTIMORE, April 15 (UPI)—The World Champion Yankees won their third straight game of the young season and the fans were ho-humming that the American League race was about over.

NEW YORK, April 26 (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles swept a doubleheader from the Yankees, dropping them into the second division but a mere 3½ games off the league lead.

INTO THE CELLAR

NEW YORK, May 20 (UPI)—Detroit beat the Yankees, 13 to 6, to drop the world champions into the cellar for the first time in 19 years. Casey Stengel, on that day of May in 1940, was manager of the seventh place Boston Bees in the National League. He was just as serene today as then.

NEW YORK, May 31 (UPI)—The Yankees bounced out of the cellar with a 3 to 0 win over the Washington Senators and the rest of the league warned "here they come."

NEW YORK, June 9 (UPI)—The Yankees beat their Kansas City "cousins" by a score of 9 to 8 to regain the first division, only 2½ games off the lead and once again they were saying "the race is over."

HERE THEY COME

NEW YORK, June 20 (UPI)—The New York Yankees were only 1½ games out of first place.

BOSTON, July 13 (UPI)—Boston completed a five-game sweep of the Yankees for the first time in 20 years to drop the world champions 7½ games back of the American League lead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (UPI)—Detroit's 4 to 0 victory dropped the Yankees 12 games back of the lead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (UPI)—The Yankees won their sixth in a row by beating Boston, 8 to 5, and although the 10-game deficit was quite a distance the leaders were "looking anxiously back over their shoulders."

NOBODY WORRIED

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (UPI)—The Yankees lost their fifth in a row to Boston and, even after they took the nightcap, nobody was "looking anxiously back over their shoulders" anymore with New York 12½ games back.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26 (UPI)—The Yanks lost their fourth in a row, Cleveland winning 5 to 4, as a Yankee starter failed to go the route for the 100th time in 127 games.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (UPI)—Baltimore beat the Yankees, 3 to 0, and only two Yankees got as far as second base as the club fell 16½ games back.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UPI)—Toll the bells slowly!

San Rafael Dog Kerry Blue Champ Of Three Nations

A 6-year-old kerry blue terrier named Gaysham Trusha won the tri-international title at Medford, Ore., on Monday.

Owned by Gordon Alan Cunningham, of 1029 C street, San Rafael, the kerry blue defeated 2 and 3-year-old dogs from England, Canada and America for the championship.

Trusha is the first dog in 39 years to be kerry blue champion of three countries, including the toughest one, England, her owner said. A Los Angeles dog last won the honor in 1921.

"This show more or less retires her," Cunningham said. "She is rather old for showing against much younger dogs."

Cunningham, 25, has been raising kerry blue terriers since he was 12 years old. He moved to San Rafael from New York last spring.

He acquired Gaysham Trusha from a relative in England, who became ill and could not keep her. In England Trusha won five "best in show" awards and two English "specialties for the breed" in London.

Upset Star Faces Aussie In U.S. Net Quarter-Final

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Ronnie Holmberg, a big, blond senior at Tulane by way of Brooklyn, is only 21, but he already has run the gamut in tennis.

Five years ago, he was rated one of the top young hopes in the country. But after beating Rod Laver of Australia for the Wimbledon junior title in 1956, he never made much more progress.

Today he plays the same Laver in the quarter-final of the Nationals. Now no one is so sure Ronnie is a has-been—least of all Ronnie. He polished off Davis cupper Earl "Butch" Buchholz yesterday 6-3, 7-5, 8-10, 5-7, 6-3. Buchholz was seeded No. 7.

"You can't play top tennis if you're serious about your school work," Ronnie said. "By the time summer vacation comes around when I can really concentrate on tennis, it's usually too late."

"But I've been going pretty good this year. Buchholz is the only American I've lost to all summer. He beat me twice, but my victory yesterday at least partially gets me back at him."

Except for Holmberg's upset of Buchholz, things progressed in normal fashion. Top-seeded Alex Olmedo of Los Angeles ousted young Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and second-ranked Neale Fraser of Australia bounced Rudy Hernandez of Detroit, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3, to advance to the quarter-finals.

Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Antonio, Tex., caught up with 36-year-old Vic Seixas, 2-6, 8-10, 6-0, 6-3, 6-1, to grab a quarter-final berth.

For Historic Sites

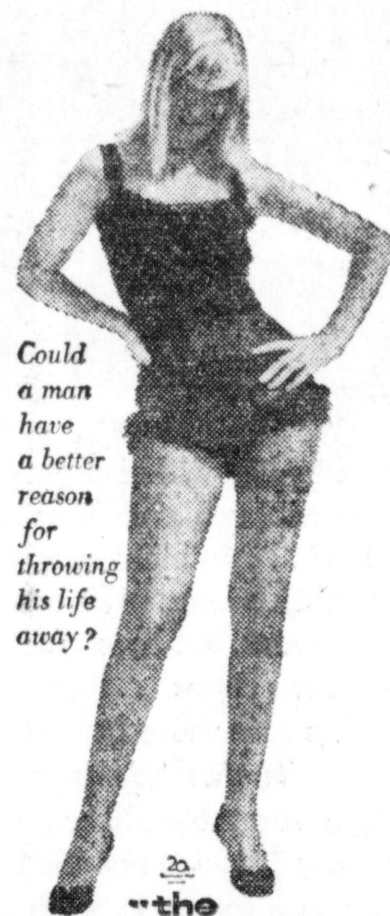

NEW YORK (AP)—Two historic sites on Broadway are shoe stores now.

Two bronze tablets have been erected on the front of one footwear shop to commemorate the site of one of the street's famous old playhouses, the Globe. Previously a plaque was placed on a shoe store a few blocks away to mark the birthplace of Playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Recorded On Film

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—University of Wisconsin engineering students who studied under Prof. Joseph D. Livermore have an easy way to recall those class days.

Livermore, who is retiring this year, has taken photographs of his classes for nearly 25 years, and has given each of the students a copy of their class pictures.

JACK HANLEY'S REPORT

Suspense Of Title Race Takes Its Toll

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Sixteen games to go in the stretch drive. Eleven more at home. The final five on the road. Two in Chicago and three in St. Louis.

That's the Giant schedule from here on in to the final game of the 154-game campaign on Sunday, Sept. 27, in the Redbird plant known as Busch Stadium at Dodder and Grand streets in dear old St. Lou.

It was in that very same ball park that the Giants started the 1959 season way back on April 10. Seems like ages ago. They swept that initial three-game series with the Redbirds, the three-game edge which has been their constant cushion in the six months battle.

Perhaps the league leaders may be able to wrap up the pennant before concluding the 18th game of their final home stand at 16th and Bryant streets on Sept. 20 when they meet the Los Angeles Dodgers for the last time in 1959.

That would make the final road trip a fun affair, a most welcome prospect not only to the players themselves but the unseen and unpublicized office help of the ball club. As it is now, all of the paper work being done behind the scenes is on an "if and when" basis.

IMAGINE the headaches of innkeepers in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Milwaukee! "I'll be there if—" is the way most of the reservations requests read. However, hotel proprietors in National League cities have been through the same thing in previous years and somehow will cover all contingencies in the current confusion.

And how about the concessionaires at the various ball parks? Have you ever tried to order 100,000 hot dogs overnight? Even with all of the new automation gadgets it takes most sausage works longer than 24 hours to stuff that many dogs in their little wrappers.

TWO OF the roughest years in the past decade for certain innkeepers and concessionaires were 1953 and 1951. In 1953, the year the Braves moved to Milwaukee from Boston, the manager of the Schroeder Hotel had one nervous collapse after another. The same thing happened to other Milwaukee innkeepers because the Braves went right down to the wire, losing their last two games in St. Louis and the pennant to the Dodgers, who finished 93-61 against Milwaukee's 92-62.

In 1951, the Giants, as they are again now, caused an awful lot of extra paper work, but since it either was New York or Brooklyn that year the practical problems were not harsh—at least not to the degree of 1953 when Milwaukee and Brooklyn were involved.

As it turned out in '51, the New York hotels housed Giant fans and the sausage plants sent their stuff to the Polo Grounds instead of Ebbetts Field, a minor diversion.

NOBODY GAVE the Giants much chance of catching the Dodgers in '51 but they did, winning 39 of their last 47 games and then taking two out of three from the Dodgers in the title playoff.

Twin Cities Nursery School Opens Soon

Mrs. John Fitch of Corte Madera announces there are a limited number of openings for the new semester at Twin Cities Cooperative Nursery School which begins on Sept. 21. Parents, who wish to enroll, are to notify Mrs. Fitch.

A party for mothers of new children in the school will be held on Sept. 17, at the school, 56 Mohawk drive, Corte Madera, commencing at 9:30 a. m. The children's program includes collage, painting with poster paints, finger painting and clay work. At "juice time" books are read to the youngsters.

Muir Temple Sewing Group Has Luncheon

Mrs. Harold Owen was hostess recently at a luncheon in her home in Sausalito, for the benefit of the sewing group of Muir Temple, Pythian Sisters. The district deputy, Mabel Towney of Santa Rosa, made her official visit to Muir Temple at its meeting in Perry's Hall, Sausalito, last night. Mrs. Smith Pierce of Mill Valley was initiated into the order.

A joint picnic is being planned with Muir Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

MRS. BRYAN, ART EDWARDS TRADE VOWS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Edwards returned last night from a honeymoon on the Monterey Peninsula and are residing in his San Anselmo home. Mrs. Edwards, the former Mrs. Jane Bryan of Piedmont, has two daughters, Anne and Kathy. Mr. Edwards has a young son, Chris.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were married on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Piedmont Community Church and the ceremony was followed by a reception at the Town and Country Club.

The new benedict, owner of the Sunset Mausoleum in Berkeley, is active in Little Theater, organizations. He had several leading roles with the Ross Valley Players, including one in the "Anniversary Waltz." He also had a lead part in the Sausalito Little Theater production of Noel Coward's comedy, "Private Lives."

Elks Club Starts Square Dancing

One of the many activities being scheduled this fall by the San Rafael Elks lodge includes a course in square dancing for beginners.

This course will be open to the general public and will start tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, and will continue every Friday evening at the same time for 15 consecutive weeks. Dancing will continue until 10:30 p. m.

The instructor will be Gordon Collins, the regular square dance caller for the Cornhuskers and Top Hands, and experienced dancers from these sponsoring clubs will attend all sessions to assist.

Lessons are timed to enable the beginner to dance at the regular semi-monthly hoe-down event scheduled this fall by the Marin County Square Dance Association. Also in this course are several fun-level hoe-downs to be held at the Elks Club and a visit to each of the sponsoring clubs.

North Marin Nursery To Entertain Parents

Health inspection and control of communicable diseases will be one of the principal topics of the orientation meeting for parents of children in the North Marin Nursery School which marks the opening of the Novato school on Sept. 14, at 1370 South Novato boulevard.

Guest speaker will be Miss Wilma York, director of nurses at Marin County Health Department, who will demonstrate how to detect the onset of childhood illness. Parents who are considering pre-school education for their children are also welcome to attend the meeting which starts at 9:30 a. m. It is requested that children not be brought to the school for the special program.

Attendance of children registered in the school will start on Tuesday and Wednesday depending on enrollment in the two or three-day sessions.

Mrs. Jean Ansley, principal, will be introduced. She will outline the educational program and goals of the school, which is licensed by the California Department of Social Welfare. Mrs. Ernestine Vickery, who serves as executive director, will also be a member of the teaching staff.

Mrs. Ansley has a bachelor's degree and teaching credential in early childhood education from the University of Minnesota and was the principal of two large nursery-kindergarten centers in Hawaii.

Sponsored as a community service by the Assembly of God Church, the non-sectarian school has near-capacity enrollment.

To Attend Meet

Mrs. Carl Livingston Jr., president of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., will attend the Presidents Council for Region XII of the Junior Leagues of America, Inc., to be held Sept. 16 and 17 at the Plazio del Rio in Santa Barbara.

HAVING A LOT of fun collecting items for the sale which will begin Sept. 17 and continue through Sept. 19 from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., are left to right, Suzi Jacobs and Debbie Stetson. The Bethel members have been helping sort and arrange articles. (Independent-Journal photos.)

Junior Museum League Plans Sausalito Houseboat Tour

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 18, between the hours of 1 and five, resident of the Bay Area will have the opportunity of viewing several of the most picturesque houseboats on the bay at Sausalito. That is the day set aside by the Service League of the Junior Museum of Marin to present their annual Houseboat Tour.

Under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Jules Becker and Mrs. A. Crawford Greene Jr. of Ross, plans are now underway to make this event a most novel afternoon of fun. A variety of houseboats including barges has been selected for the tour. Each of the homes reflects the individuality and charm of its owners, and each home presents a unique approach to living.

After exploring the houseboats, tour members will gather at the David Cole Art Gallery which is located on a ferryboat at Gate 5. Here guests will have the chance to view a special exhibit of paintings and sculpture hung especially for this event. Refreshments in keeping with the spirit of the day will be served aboard the gallery.

For those who have a baby-sitting problem there will be a fenced nursery on the docks which will feature an exhibit of animals from the Junior Museum of Marin. Mrs. John K. Bloom of Mill Valley, who is president of the Service League will direct this activity.

Proceeds from the Houseboat Tour, to which everyone is invited, will go to the benefit of the Junior Museum of Marin located at Albert Park in San Rafael.

The Junior Museum is a non-profit organization which wishes to promote among children and adults a better appreciation and understanding of California's great outdoors, its wildlife, natural resources, and remarkable beauty. It is particularly famous for its "lending library" of animals which children may take home to care for and to study. The Museum augments the work of schools in the field of science by providing educational experiences for children in the oft-neglected field of natural science.

Tickets for the Sausalito Houseboat Tour will be available at the Junior Museum of Marin, 76 Albert Park lane, San Rafael, and from members of the Service League. Mrs. Charles G. Bury, Kentfield, is in charge of publicity.

LEAGUE FIRST FALL MEET SET SEPT. 25

The San Francisco Junior League, Inc., will hold its first fall general meeting on Friday, Sept. 25 at 10:30 o'clock in the Peacock Court of Hotel Mark Hopkins.

Dr. Joel Hildebrand will speak on "Educational Problems in Democracy." A "Next-to-New Shop Tenth Anniversary Fashion Show" will complete the program. Following the meeting a bus tour of "Architectural Highlights of San Francisco" will be conducted by Ian McKinley, Assistant Professor of Architecture at the University of California.

Supper, Card Party

Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305 and Mt. Tamalpais Lodge No. 399, IOOF, will hold their monthly potluck supper and card party at the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley on Wednesday evening, Sept. 16.

Committee members for the 6:30 p. m. supper will be Mrs. Myrtle Dahl and Mrs. Alma Hicks.

In charge of the 8:15 p. m. whist party are Messrs Herbert Maxey, Orrie Anderson and Paul Hughes.

Woodwardia To Participate In District

Woodwardia Circle Neighbors of Woodcraft, held its first meeting of the month at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael last night. Before the meeting the district guards, under the leadership of the district captain, Mrs. Lawrence Hancock, held their final practice before the District Circle Session to be held Sept. 13, 14, and 15 at Santa Rosa. La Rosa Circle of Santa Rosa will be the hostess organization for the district, which extends from San Jose to Arcata. District officers from Woodwardia Circle are Mrs. Hancock, captain of guards; Mrs. Esther Lewis, musician and Mrs. Loraine Hall, attendant. Delegates representing Woodwardia are Mesdames T. C. Berg, past guardian neighbor; Harry C. Cahill, district deputy field manager; Mrs. Della Cline, guardian neighbor; Mesdames Joseph Santos, Joseph M. Sullivan, Frank A. Linebaugh, guards.

The hostess for the evening was Mrs. Lewis. She was assisted by Pansy Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Largomassino, and Mrs. Virgilio Cheda in serving refreshments after the meeting. The tables were decorated with grape vines and grapes. Also, this month the Thimble Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank J. Mattos, president. After a potluck luncheon a meeting was held, and plans for the luncheon and bazaar Oct. 28 were discussed.

The Officers' Club held its meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Bell, with Mrs. T. C. Berg, president, conducting the meeting. The club unanimously voted to present the Circle with 100 plastic place mats. Discussed were the ritualistic and floor work.

At the meeting of the circle on Wednesday, Sept. 23, a reception for the Guards will be held. A short business meeting will be followed by a card game and refreshments.

Marin Delegates In Sacramento For Garden Meet

Mrs. Robert L. Tuckey of Kentfield and Mrs. Esther McDonald of Fairfax left Wednesday to attend the convention of the California Garden Clubs Inc., in Sacramento.

Mrs. Tuckey is delegate from the Garden Society of Marin, a founder group of the Marin Art and Garden Center.

A member of the Northern California judges' council, Mrs. Tuckey will take part in a panel discussion on problems encountered in staging flower shows.

Mrs. McDonald is a member of the board of the California Garden Clubs and will be installed as the flower show chairman for the state.

On Saturday, Mrs. Tuckey and Mrs. McDonald will go to San Bruno to serve as judges at the fall flower show of the San Bruno Garden Club.

Marin Crickets Party

The Marin Crickets square dance club will hold its party Saturday from 8 to 12 at Davidson School gym in San Rafael. Jack McKay, popular San Francisco caller, will be featured. All square dancers are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Fashion ABC's Ring The Bell At Tuesday Focus Luncheon

Fall Fashion ABC's were taught in fashion school on Tuesday for a happy group of mothers, grandmothers, sub-teens and children who came to enjoy Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon and honor the Jolly Roger Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

First school lesson was history — not of early California, but Marin fashion. Mothers found that clothes for every price range, every figure and every urban-suburban activity were right in the county; you only had to know where to shop for them!

Informally among the tables where everyone had an opportunity to appreciate the poise and charm of each small model and the attractiveness of the selected fall outfits.

For young gentlemen of distinction who believe in looking distinguished at school, play or Sunday school and parties, Walter Derr, III, Jim and Chris Busher, and Doug Jones were impeccably attired by a Marin young men's shop to show the snappiest and "in-est" fall looks called "cool" in knowing circles.

Ring the bell for the young set bound for nursery school was David Natress and sister, Linda, heading for the primary grades. Debbie Kirchner told the story of a red and blue print plus a white cardigan. Susie Huffaker voted for gay plaid while Bill and Jay Decker told about the Brown family for fall.

Copy-cats liking the "green" look for school and party were Claudia Newald and Deanne Kirchner. Christine Zierolf was "Miss Party Girl" for fall, with subteener Bonnie Shirley ready for fun in slim jims of plaid and bulky gray pullover; then returning later dressed for the first Cotillion in bright pink cotton lace satin and squired by a Jr. Esquire Walter Derr, III.

"Fall Fashion ABC's" to suit every activity for mother.

"Destination Dentist," or any morning appointment, a Canadian wool plaid skirt; brass shirt and blending green cashmere sweater for Mrs. Eric Kollgard.

"Mad Morning," for a day on the go, Alice of California slate blue corduroy; slim skirt, print shirt and matching Chanel jacket a threesome for Mrs. William Hislop.

"Bridal Luncheon," high bidder, Davidow's luxury suit of grey wool tweed; easy walking skirt, white cashmere and boxy jacket with important pockets plus Mrs. William Beedle and a smart leather bag.

"Board Meeting," Mrs. George Neuwald arriving in Catalina's bold black and white plaid pleated skirt, a black collared pullover and a snappy white leather jacket.

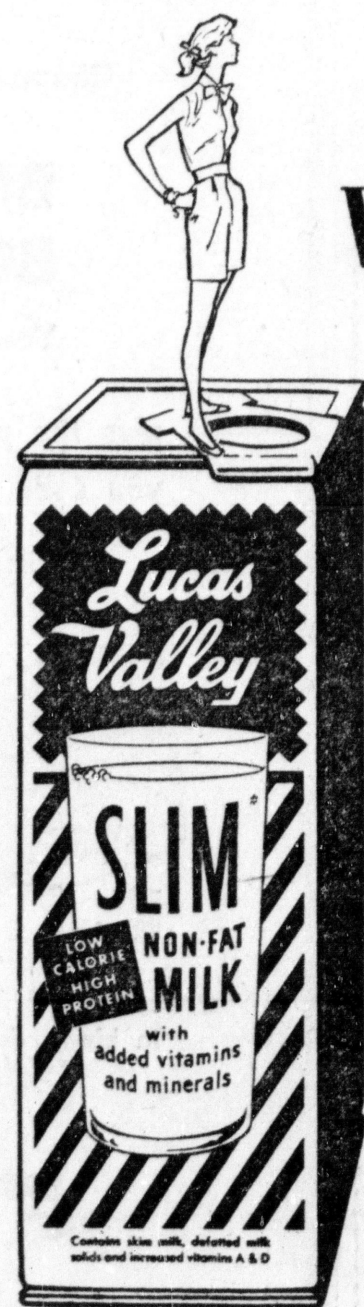

"Shall We Dance," a beautiful slim opera sheath in rich aqua, silver and gold brocade; a back pouf of draping the accent touch for Mrs. James Zierolf.

"City Date" from morning till night, a Beau Monde beige knit dress chaperoned by a smartly buttoned jacket, plus a fetching black velour hat banded in cinnamon, black kid gloves, and fall's new jewelry for Mrs. Lloyd Kirchner.

AFTER FIVE "Black after Five," especially when it's Jeanne Scott design; a lime skirt cocktail sheath with crepe line the foil for a black chiffon scooped neck bodice and Mrs. Clyde Jones. "Theater Intermission," the audience eyeing Mrs. Joseph Huffaker's late day dress by Lee Clair combining two important fashion new items, loden green and lace.

"Company At Home," to greet them elegantly, the luxury of Corinne of California's uniquely jeweled black sweater hugging a furry black wool skirt made in Italy.

Next Tuesday, Fashion Focus says, "Hurrah, The Children Are Back in School" so come and join a smart San Rafael specialty shop when it presents its first fall showing of country classics and late day glamour fashions to honor the Blessed Sacrament Women's Guild. Reservations, open to the public, are made by calling Rickey's.

Square Dance Party
The monthly square dance party of the Spinning Spurs will be held on Saturday night at the IDESI Hall in Novato. The Sam Gress Grissoms are chairmen. Bud Grass will be the caller. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded. All square dancers are welcome.

Triple C's Sale Opens Tomorrow

The Mill Valley Community Church Triple C's recent opening fall luncheon served as a kick-off for its annual "Opportunity Sale," which opens tomorrow to run each day except Sunday through Sept. 19. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

After 70 women heard general chairman Mrs. James Betts speak on the various meanings of "Opportunity," many signed up for the numerous duties involved in the lengthy sale.

Proceeds are earmarked for purchase of items not otherwise provided for in the church budget, as well as for the many philanthropies supported by the group.

According to Mrs. Martin Knox, book chairman, buyers will find exceptional value this year in a tremendous number of 78 rpm record albums of complete operas and classical selections. These albums are complete and in excellent condition.

Mrs. Walter Luzzader is in charge of the section which presents new handmade aprons, dish towels, stuffed animals and similar items.

Mrs. Frank Hickman and Mrs. Robert Moore are in charge of baked goods, and Mrs. T. L. Harris will take care of jewelry. Household articles are the responsibility of Mrs. R. F. Lane, and Mrs. Donald Du Pertuis is chairman of plants and outdoor living. As usual, there will be a large selection of clothing and of children's toys.

Mrs. Du Pertuis was in charge of the luncheon, assisted by Mesdames Lyle Cummins and John Norall. Mrs. W. H. Symmes was responsible for the colorful fall decor.

League To Sponsor Opera Previews

The Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., once again is cooperating with the San Francisco Opera Assn. in presenting Opera Previews, three programs at which eminent authorities in the musical field will discuss operas being sung during the current season. These programs, to be held in the Peacock Court of the Hotel Mark Hopkins, are open to the public, free of charge.

The series will start Friday morning, Sept. 18 at 11 o'clock with Alexander Fried, music and art critic of the San Francisco Examiner, discussing "Die Frau Ohne Schatten" by Strauss. This will be a "first" for this elaborate production in San Francisco. The Hotel has reserved Peacock Lounge for those wishing to remain for luncheon following the Preview.

At the second Preview, Monday morning, Oct. 5 at 11 a.m. James Schwabacher, tenor, of opera, concert, and television will discuss "Die Meistersinger" by Wagner, a long time favorite of opera-goers.

The third, and final Preview of the season will be Thursday evening, Oct. 15 at 8:30 p.m. On this occasion, Dr. Jan Popper, Professor of Music, University of California at Los Angeles, will discuss "Othello" by Verdi. The Hotel's Lochinvar Room will be a gathering spot for those wishing dinner before this event.

A special Peninsula Preview will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 11 a.m. when Dr. Wendell Otey of the University of San Francisco will discuss "Andrea Chenier" by Giordano. The locale will be the Menlo Circus Club with luncheon following for those wishing to remain.

'Get-Acquainted' Luncheon Fetes Homestead Faculty

Teachers at Homestead School were entertained at a "Get-Acquainted" luncheon recently in the home of Mrs. Richard E. Stephens in Mill Valley.

Attending were Mesdames Florentine Chase, Julia Dempster and Blanche Lewis, and the Misses Beatrice Hanks, Marie Hirt, Marilu McGerity, Margaret Olney and Marlys Thiel.

Joining the teachers for the luncheon served by P-TA president Mrs. Stephens and co-hostess Mrs. Robert Jenkins were Miss Betty Grimm, Homestead and Alto principal, Mrs. Mabel Irwin, school secretary, and Miss Jean Quarnheim, who will assist Miss Grimm at Alto School next term.

Chinese food was set off by flower-bamboo arrangements done by Mrs. H. W. Symmes.

Red Cross Juniors Participate In Annual Capping Ceremonies

The Second annual capping ceremony for Junior Red Cross Gray Ladies and men was held recently at the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross in San Rafael.

The visual symbol of many hours of work invested in helping others, the ceremony signified by each recipient has completed at least the courses in Red Cross orientation and hospital orientation, plus 12 hours work in one hospital.

Most of the young people have worked between 50 and 200 hours during the 8-week summer program and have completed additional courses in first aid, care of sick and injured and games clinic. Hours given by the boys and girls during the past year total 5621.

Chapter chairman Mrs. Edward Ruff opened the ceremonies and was followed by the principal speaker of the evening, John Dismukes, assistant manager, Pacific area, American National Red Cross. Speaking for the juniors were the Misses Barbara Cassin and Suzanne Matsinger and Gary Scott.

Also participating in the ceremonies were Mesdames Ann Sanford Lowengart, chairman office of volunteers; Winfred Detsch, director of Junior Red Cross for Marin County; D. W. Chapman, recognition chairman; John Dismukes, chairman of home nursing; Vern Macvarian, chairman Gray Ladies at Sonoma State Hospital; and the Misses Alice J. McCormick, Gray Lady chairman for Veterans Hospital at Yountville, and Patricia Guy, chairman Junior Red Cross Gray Lady Council.

Hospitals served by these young people are Lucas Valley County Hospital, Marin Rehabilitation and Convalescent, Central Medical, and Sonoma State hospitals.

Receiving caps at the ceremony were the Misses Nancy Aunapu, Kathi Bardea, Karen

Beckstead, Barbara Burkett, Germaine Briggs, Bonnie Jean Clark, Shirley Cowan, Susan Dolman, Bonnie Eshelman, Carol Ferne, Joyce La Fontaine, Sally Good, Patricia Guy, Mary Ann Hoots, Maureen Hartmann, Judy Jacobson, Karen Keating, Spring Kraeger, Elena Lancaster, Peggy Lilienthal, Linda Norwood, Patricia O'Dell, Elizabeth Palmer, Janet Quale, Jennifer Ranney, Barbara Reburn, Carol Scott, Dottie Treanton, and Barbara Wallace, and

Messrs. Steve Clark, Steve Detsch, Gary Scott and Steve Taylor.

Among those previously capped young ladies and men who received stripes indicative of an additional year's service were the Misses Carol Allrogen, Judy Boss, Susan Bono, Judy Bassett, Patricia Bogel, Dana Bruff, Barbara Cassin, Shannon Cassin, Lynn Etta Dakin, Lynn Danforth, Karen Detsch, Beverly Dismukes, April Edsberg, Judith Gustafson, Sue Gilbert, Margo Kenneally, Edith Kelly, Suzanne Matsinger, Sharon Philbrick, Linda Pedersen, Donna Salkeld, Sharon Sterne and Mr. Garry Jones. The hours given by this group during the past year totaled 3553.

BIG NEW STORE GOING UP

The new Montgomery Ward and Co. store in Corte Madera Center is beginning to take shape as Bishop-Mattei Construction Co., Inc., lifts tilt-up wall sections into shape. The concrete wall panels are fabricated at the site and placed by crane. The contractor is out to meet a February deadline for completion of the big store, construction of which began July 29. Designer is John S. Bolles of San Francisco. Also under construction by Bishop-Mattei at the Corte Madera Center are an automobile service store for Ward's, a bank building for a branch of the First National Bank in San Rafael and a building to house three smaller retail stores. Historical Society Will Hear Story Of Rancho

The story of Rancho Corto Madera del Presidio will be unfolded when the Marin County Historical Society has its annual public meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

The rancho was granted to John Reed, a handsome young Irishman, in 1834, and two years later he brought his Spanish bride, Hilaria, to the adobe he had built.

The rancho included all of the Tiburon peninsula, Larkspur, Corte Madera and surrounding area. At the historical society meeting, the Tiburon peninsula, which includes Belvedere, will be highlighted.

On the speakers panel will be two members of pioneer Tiburon peninsula families: Russell Keil of Keil's Cove, whose grandfather bought the land in the 1880's, and James L. Heynemann of Belvedere, whose home is on the land his grandfather bought because of his friendship for Capt. William A. Richardson, owner of the Sausalito Rancho.

Third member of the panel will be Roy Graves, a vice president of the society and curator of its museum at Boyd Ridge in San Rafael. Graves is an authority on early transportation in Marin. In his talk he will emphasize the fact that John Reed is credited with operating the first "ferry" between Marin County and San Francisco. He carried passengers and produce on his small sail boat.

Thomas W. Peryam, president, will conduct the meeting. Honored will be golden wedding couples who are Marin residents. Refreshments will be served.

MAN BATTERED WITH PIZZA, PLATE AND ALL

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Mrs. Lois Ulmar, 40, of 3013 El Camino Real, was booked for assault and battery after she drowned Renato Monti with a pizza.

Mrs. Ulmar said she thought Monti, 45, owner of Renato's Pizza Palace, was berating his brother Joseph, 61, when their arms waved and voices raised during what the Montis called "a typical Italian-style conversation."

"The least she could have done," Monti said, "was take the pizza out of the plate."

Medical Staff Elects At Ross Hospital

Dr. William A. Galeno has been elected new president of the Ross General Hospital medical staff, with Dr. Lee M. Cecil vice president and Dr. Charles E. Keyes secretary-treasurer.

Other nominations to positions as chiefs of departments and services include:

Dr. W. B. Smith, medical service; Dr. George H. Merryman, surgical service; Dr. Thomas L. Grayson, general practice; Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, emergency service; Dr. S. T. D. Anderson, neuro-psychiatric service; Dr.

David Ivie, special service; Dr. John H. Manwaring, pathology service; Dr. Charles Hoffman, pharmacy.

Dr. James L. Goebel was named chairman of credentials committee and Dr. Clarence A. Leske chairman of medical records committee.

House Passes Bill On Transit Funds

Thief Takes $143 From Cash Register

A till tapper stole $143 from a cash register at a San Rafael service station Tuesday, the manager reported to police.

Claus E. Coeler, who operates the Rio Grande Service Station at 451 Francisco boulevard, discovered the loss about 3:40 p.m. when he began preparing to round up the day's receipts for deposit in the bank.

Inspector Nick Giampoli is investigating the theft.

Two other thefts were reported to San Rafael police Tuesday.

John W. East of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. engineering building at 750 Lindaro street, said $103 is missing from two small metal boxes in the top drawer of the office filing cabinet. There was no sign of a forced entry.

Police said the thief might have used a key to the cabinet, which is kept in East's desk drawer.

Harold Matteucci, agent for Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. reported the loss of $325 worth of equipment from the railroad depot office at Third street and Tamalpais avenue.

The intruder broke a window on the west side of the building and stole a transcriber and a dictaphone.

College To Offer 3 Courses Here

Repeaters Of Grades In School Too Often Fail To Show Benefit

Did you repeat a grade when you were in school? Were you a better student afterward? Chances are your answer is no. In those days only one repeater in 20 profited by it.

Schools are doing better now. They're more careful whom they fail. But apparently they still are failing too many. I've been checking a follow-up study of children who repeated their grades last year. It makes dismal reading. Over half of the repeaters made no progress at all. They read just as badly as the end of the year as they did at the beginning. They were just as weak in arithmetic, spelling, writing, science and social studies. Half of them developed bad citizenship traits. Many of them were worse students and poorer citizens at the end of the year than at the beginning.

Fewer than two out of every five profited by repeating the grade. The lucky ones moved along nicely in the three R's. They overcame past weaknesses. They were good citizens. They proved that some youngsters profit by repeating grades. But the number isn't large.

Do you have a child who does poorly in school? Is there a chance that he'll be asked to repeat his grade? If so, be careful. Have the school study him. Insist on individual psychological tests. Pay for them yourself, if need be. Be sure he understands what's up. Be sure he wants to repeat the grade. Make it plain that it is no disgrace to repeat. Insist he be placed with a skilled, sympathetic teacher. Then he may be helped by the experience.

Discussion On Race Bias Set

"Racial discrimination and what's being done about it" will be discussed by members of the Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Marin City Community Hall.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and other Marin City groups have arranged for the meeting. Mrs. Edward Kessel of Novato, committee secretary, reported.

"We will talk about the committee's investigations into racial discrimination in housing and what can happen as a result of those investigations," said Mrs. Kessel.

FINE, BUT LET'S SELL A FEW ENCYCLOPEDIAS

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Michael L. Matthew of Fort Eustis, Va., sells encyclopedias. That is, he was hired three days ago to sell encyclopedias. He hasn't sold any yet.

At a sales meeting, 48 state sales winners were picked for a free trip to Paris. But the chartered plane has 49 seats.

A drawing was held. Ah, Monsieur Matthew, you are the lucky one, not?

Prisoners On Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, in his forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, probably will bring up the subject of the five Americans still imprisoned in Red China.

Attention was focused on the prisoners again today when the State Department said their release is a matter of urgency and importance.

New Tests For College-Bound Seniors Developed By Iowa U.

By Associated Press

A new testing program for college-bound high school seniors has been announced today by the University of Iowa. It marks the first real challenge to the long-established but often criticized College Entrance Examination Board.

Iowa's American College Testing program will get under way in November with between 200 and 300 participating colleges and universities. Like the older program, it will help the colleges determine in advance which students are qualified for admission.

The CEEB tests are administered for about 200 colleges, with less than 20 per cent of the nation's total college enrollment. CEEB was established in 1901.

In recent years there has been a growing criticism of CEEB and of the Educational Testing Service which it helped establish in 1947. ETS prepares and scores the college board tests, as well as many other types of examinations.

Dr. E. F. Lindquist, director of the Iowa program, said the new system will be more comprehensive than the college boards, will be cheaper, and the competition will result in an "improvement of the ETS tests. America's schools will get more for their money."

Here is a comparison of the two systems:

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Gwenn Funeral Today

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — Funeral services were to be held today for actor Edmund Gwenn whose sensitive portrayal of Santa Claus in the movie "Miracle on 34th Street" won him an Academy Award.

The British-born actor died Sunday at the Motion Picture House and Hospital where he spent his last two years in failing health. He would have been 82 on Sept. 26.

Seek To Stop Riots

PIRMASENS, Germany (UPI) — Reinforced military and civilian police patrolled Pirmasens and nearby Lemberg today under orders to prevent any recurrence of the GI-German rioting that flared here earlier this week.

No trouble appeared likely. The Army has restricted all troops in the area to quarters, and the 516th Signal Group, whose men were involved in the fierce street fighting, was reported preparing to move to another part of the Pirmasens maneuver area.

GIs Wear Alpine Garb

ROSENHEIM, Germany (UPI) — U. S. soldiers of the 10th Special Forces Group will be dressed for the occasion when they go on maneuvers in the Alpine region this fall, it was disclosed today.

The troops will wear traditional Bavarian leather shorts and green jackets. Army officials said the two items of clothing were part of the prescribed uniform for the exercise.

Brynner In U.N. Job

NICE, France (UPI) — American movie actor Yul Brynner has accepted an official assignment for the United Nations to undertake a world-wide study into the problem of displaced persons.

Brynner, currently making a film here, said yesterday the unpaid, three-year assignment would be carried out along with his regular film work. He said he has signed a contract with the United Nations and will submit a formal report at the end of the three years.

Hoover Wins Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 85, has received two of the city's highest awards. He was presented yesterday with a gold medal of honor and a citation giving him freedom of the city. New York gives its medal of honor only to heads and former heads of state.

Waterfront Fire

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP) — A raging fire, punctuated by explosions from drums of chemicals, destroyed seven warehouse buildings on the waterfront yesterday.

Seven firemen were hospitalized but none was injured seriously.

Building Light Doused

NEW YORK (AP) — The Empire State building has doused its stationary, all-night beacon until Nov. 1 in order to help migratory birds. The light caused the birds to crash into the building.

Deadwood Fires Rage

DEADWOOD, S. D. (AP) — Most residents of this forest-fire-threatened community remained away from their homes and businesses today as forces of some 700 men continued battling three major blazes. Tom Borden, assistant state forester, said crews were seeking to prevent a breakout of the flames and a repetition of Tuesday, when flames seared a circle around Deadwood, forcing evacuation of 3,500 residents.

Nikita Dinner Sellout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Sept. 21 banquet for Nikita Khrushchev is a 2,000-seat sellout before any tickets are available.

So the World Affairs Council and Commonwealth Club—joint sponsors—today are trying to arrange for standees outside the banquet room to hear the Soviet premier's address.

Khrushchev will visit the San Francisco area Sept. 20-21.

Thrown Into Tree

LONG BEACH (AP) — With his neck wedged between two branches, a youth hung in a tree for several minutes after an automobile accident.

Robert A. Harris, 18, of Long Beach, was tossed into the tree when a sports car went out of control yesterday. Ambulance attendants brought him down. He is in critical condition in a hospital.

Bomb Charges Pressed

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Delaware Atty. Gen. Januar D. Bove said today he will press for the conviction of eight white men accused in connection with the bombing of the only Negro home in suburban Collins Park.

He said that he will call a special session of the New Castle grand jury Sept. 22 to consider indictments against some or all of those accused.

HERE'S WHAT THEY SEE — This is the Marin booth at the State Fair.

Maps, charts, photos and reading matter descriptive of the county are on display.

New Facilities Would Permit Expanded Fair

Marin County is seeking $675,000 in state aid to build a community fairgrounds at the civic center site where the county can put on an expanded version of the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Marin County supervisors, through County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, have outlined a program that envisages an amphitheater for 3,000 persons, a lagoon and other facilities in a park-like setting that can be enjoyed the year round.

The $675,000 would cover the cost of the first-stage "minimal development." A description of the proposed community fair is outlined by the county administrator to send to the state Division of Fairs and Expositions.

ENTERTAIN, EDUCATE

Marin County Community Fair would entertain and educate the public in the art of gracious living in natural surroundings, with attention to youth's interest in agriculture. It would feature Marin County as the best place to live and enjoy life, the administrator points out.

Gardens, trees and flowers will play an important part. So will culture such as art, music, and dancing. Recreation will be featured by displays of boats, sporting goods, fishing and other outdoor activities typical of Marin. Hobbyists will have a chance to demonstrate their wares.

Home building and appliances would be the central theme of commercial exhibits. For the agricultural segment, displays of farm products and livestock will be provided. A small ring for horse shows and riding skills is also proposed.

AVOID DUPLICATION

Agricultural and livestock competition will not be overly emphasized because this would only duplicate the program of the existing Sonoma-Marine District Fair in Petaluma.

The amphitheater area may be used for a variety of entertainment such as band and parade competition, ballet aquades, diving and swimming exhibitions, boxing and wrestling matches, folk dance festivals, waterworks and fireworks displays, concerts, theatrical performances, and pageants in and around the lagoon. Small craft sailing meets, casting competition and motorboat racing could also use the lagoon.

Exhibits can be housed in the National Guard Armory and the Naval Reserve Armory.

TEMPORARY TENTS

Until a permanent restaurant facility is built as part of the future civic center project, an outdoor restaurant would be built next to the amphitheater. Temporary tents could augment the exhibit area during the fair.

During the first stage, the lagoon will provide a natural boundary for the portion of the fair site initially used. In the future, additional work on the lagoon can make it a fresh water body for full recreational use.

At fair time, Hawaiian torches can be placed alongside the lagoon to reflect in the waters and create a festive atmosphere in an economical and temporary manner.

The fairground is a part of the overall civic center master plan designed by the late Frank Lloyd Wright to the north of Santa Venetia.

Of the 69 highest mountains in the United States, 54 are in Colorado.

NEW THRILLS BECKON

Marinites Await Trip To Europe

Less than three weeks from now a group of Marin residents will leave on the Independent-Journal's European Holiday tour.

They'll fly Trans Western Airlines polar route direct to Rome to begin the most exciting experience of their lives. Frank George, manager of Redwood Travel Advisors in San Rafael, tour conductors, pointing out that the European holiday tour is within the reach of those with only modest incomes says there are a few reservations still open. Passports can be secured in a week's time.

The all-expense-paid tour includes all transportation, including motor coach trips through the three countries to be visited, Italy, Switzerland and France, rooms at the best hotels and all meals with only a couple of exceptions.

I-J EDITOR GOING

A courier, who speaks English, Italian, French and German will be with the group throughout the tour. He will attend to all the details, and not only take the party sightseeing but will give advice on what to buy in the various cities and where to shop. Also accompanying the group will be the Independent-Journal's society editor, Florence Donnelly.

Also on the tour will be two Marin real estate dealers, Blanche Redmond and Vera Rivers. The trip has particular sentimental for Mrs. Rivers as she was born in Switzerland and educated in France. Also in the group will be Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sutter, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mariani, Mesdames Christine Haskell, Marianne Kelley, Ellen Oberholzer, Irene H. Marshall, Merle Kilpatrick, Miss Beverly Connolly and George F. Kochert.

Shortly after midnight of Sept. 29 the polar flight will start from the San Francisco International Airport and 19 hours later the Marin group will be in Rome. And then a world of new experiences will be revealed. By motorcoach the travelers will be taken to the Quirinal Palace, Trevi Fountain, Pantheon, Vatican Museums and galleries, Sistine Chapel, Villa Borghese, the basilicas of St. Mary Major and of St. John Lateran, the old Appian Way and the Tivoli. On the sixth day, the group will travel from Rome to Florence, driving via the hill towns, Assisi, Perugia and Arezzo.

TO FLORENCE, VENICE

In Florence, the Italian center of art, the party will stay for several days viewing the cathedrals and palaces including the Piazzale Michelangelo, Fiesole, a charming little Etruscan town near Florence, will also be visited. The group will then travel to Venice, the City of Canals. Around St. Mark's Square, the travelers will see St. Mark's, noted for its gold mosaics, the Doges Palace, the Bridge of Sighs and the Campanile. Also included in the tour is a ride on a gondola to see the Rialto Bridge, Frari Church and the palaces.

The group will be driven from Venice to Milan via Verona and the southern tip of Lake Garda.

After a day's sightseeing there the tourists will make the flight over the Alps to Zurich, the largest Swiss city. There will be a full day excursion by motorcoach via Lake Zug and alongside Mt. Rigi to Lucerne, and return via Sihl Valley.

TO GENEVA

Through the picturesque Swiss countryside the group will travel to Geneva by train. Highlights will be visiting the League of Nations Palace, the Conservatoire de Musique and the Reformation Monument.

From Geneva the group will fly to Paris. Dozens of picturesque and historic places will be seen, including the Champs Elysees, Arch de Triumphant, Eiffel Tower, the Place de la Concorde, the Louvre, La Sorbonne, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Montmartre and the Latin Quarter. On an afternoon excursion to Versailles the palace, the Royal Chapel, the gardens and fountains will be viewed. And after 20 days the tour will conclude with the TWA flight aboard the "Jetstream Ambassador" via the polar route to San Francisco.

Nikita To Spend Busy Weekend In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will be a busy tourist during his 38½ hours in the San Francisco Bay Area late this month.

From 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 20, when his special train arrives in San Francisco from Los Angeles, until 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22, when he leaves by jet plane for Des Moines, Iowa, the Soviet leader will be on the go.

The State Department still has not released an official itinerary for Khrushchev, but information furnished groups at the local level shows the Bay Area trip shaping up like this:

On Sunday, Sept. 20, he and his party will leave their train at San Francisco and go to the Hotel Mark Hopkins, their headquarters while here.

Khrushchev will meet Sunday evening with United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther and other top leaders of the AFL-CIO, which will be holding its national convention then.

On Monday morning, from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock, Khrushchev is scheduled to go sightseeing just like any of the thousands of tourists who come here every year. He will tour the city and take a boat tour of San Francisco harbor.

He then heads south in a motorcade for San Jose, where he will have lunch in the employees' cafeteria at the International Business Machines computer plant.

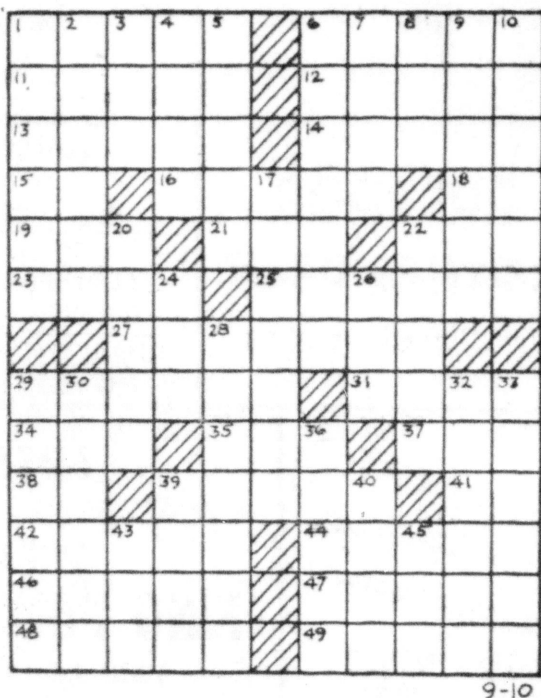

After lunch he will tour the plant. Then Khrushchev heads for the Stanford Research Institute, arriving at 3:20 p.m. for an hour's visit. He returns to the Mark Hopkins at 5:30 p.m. Khrushchev may hold a news conference at 6 p.m. under the auspices of the Press and Union League Club of San Francisco.

Monday night, Khrushchev will address a joint dinner of the Commonwealth Club of California, at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel.

Khrushchev will spend Monday night at the Mark Hopkins, then head for San Francisco International Airport at 8:40 a.m. Tuesday. He is scheduled to leave by jet for Des Moines at 9:30 a.m.

Taxpayer's Unit Puts Out Paper

Marin Tax News, a four-page five-column newspaper issued by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn., is out in its first edition bearing a front page banner headline "Property Owners Tax Revolt."

This deals with the effort of 319 Marin County taxpayers to obtain $105,000 in refunds and advises readers of a Sept. 1 session to come before the Marin County Board of Supervisors, an event covered in a front-page item of the Independent-Journal for Sept. 2.

Other articles term the Marin Civic Center "a costly monument," advocate special elections legislation, urge a "no" vote on Mill Valley elementary school bonds, tell how taxes are levied, describe the "mockery" surrounding rejection of a tax-limitation initiative and suggest repeal of income taxes.

Declaring that "power mad tax bandits must be curbed," a front page article says that "property owners have made this issue possible" and asks readers to suggest frequency of publication and indicate their willingness to support the publication. No subscription price is quoted but memberships in the association are solicited.

Funds Sought For Workshop

Financial backing for a sheltered workshop will be sought as the Marin Assn. for Retarded Children opens its sixth year with a meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the E Street School, San Rafael.

Mrs. Marvin Good of Novato, president, said that present projects will continue such as a summer recreation program for school-age children and a nursery school operated for several years.

Mrs. John Dismukes, chairman of home nursing for the Marin County Red Cross, will conduct a demonstration of oral resuscitation at the meeting.

No. 915 Sept. 3, 5, 10, 1959

COUNTY OF MARIN,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA
MARINERO IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT.
NOTICE OF RECORDING OF ASSESSMENT
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 8 day of September, 1959, there was recorded in the office of the County Supervisor of the County of Marin an assessment levied upon all that property in an assessment district in the County of Marin, State of California, designated Marinero Improvement District, comprising the territory described and provided for in Resolution of Intention No. 5848 duly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of said County, on June 30, 1959, wherein it declared its intention to order certain work to be done and acquisitions and improvements to be made in said County of Marin, in said Marinero Improvement District, all in accordance with said Resolution of Intention to which reference is hereby made, and (ii) a diagram showing said Marinero Improvement District, and its boundaries and dimensions of the lands within said District.

All sums assessed by said assessment are due and payable immediately to the said County of Marin, to be made to the County Tax Collector at his office in the City of San Rafael, Marin County, State of California, on or before the close of business on October 3, 1959, or the next business day thereafter, wherein such time has been waived by property owners.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that serial bonds payable to bearer, to represent unpaid assessments of $50 or more and to bear interest at the maximum rate of not to exceed 6% a year payable semi-annually will be issued in the City of San Rafael, Marin County, State of California, on or before the close of business on October 3, 1959, or the next business day thereafter, wherein such time has been waived by property owners.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the undersigned, as Guardian of the person and estate of EMMA GENARDINI, formerly known as EMMA GENARDINI, an incompetent person, will sell at private sale to the highest and best bidder upon the terms and conditions herein after mentioned and subject to the confirmation by the above entitled court, on September 17, 1959, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock a.m., or thereafter within the period of 10 days, at the office of EDWARD S. MUKHTAR, attorney at law, Room 615 Forum Building, Sacramento 14, California, all the right, title and interest of said incompetent person in and to the certain real property situated in the County of Marin, State of California, lying on the North line of Alhambra Avenue, containing approximately 12 acres, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL ONE: Beginning at a point in the center of a 60 foot County Road leading from Black Point to Novato, which is the southwest corner of Lot 65 as said road and lot are shown on the Map of "Machin's Black Point Subdivision, Part of Lot 11, Div. 'C', Rancho de Navato," and recorded August 10, 1894 in Book 1 of Maps at page 77, Marin County Records; thence from said point of beginning along the center line of the aforesaid Road North 65° 33' East 475.51 feet, thence leaving said line North 13° 57' west 145.51 feet, thence North 65° 33' East 200 feet, thence South 13° 57' West 145.51 feet, thence South 65° 33' East 200 feet, thence South 13° 57' East 145.51 feet to the point of beginning, BEING portions of Lots 64 and 65 of the above mentioned subdivision, ALL bearings refer to the magnetic meridian as shown on the recorded map.

Bids or offers are invited for said property and must be in writing and will be received at the office of EDWARD S. MUKHTAR, Attorney at Law, attorney for the said Guardian, or may be filed with the Clerk of the above entitled court or delivered to said Guardian personally at any time after the first publication of this notice and before making the sale.

Said sale will be made upon the following terms: ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the bid shall be submitted with the bid, and the balance paid in cash on confirmation of sale by said Superior Court; taxes shall be prorated as of the date of the confirmation of the sale and title insurance shall be furnished at expense of the purchaser.

THE BEST OF THE JETS IS HERE!

FLY UNITED AIR LINES'

NEW DC-8 JET MAINLINER

RED CARPET* ROOM—First Class luxury starts here. This room extends the full width of the plane, is nearly twice as large as lounges in other jets. It is located in the forward section of the plane, well ahead of the swept-back wings for extra quiet and an unobstructed view through the extra-large windows—biggest in jet travel.

THE NEWEST, FINEST JET SERVICE is now yours in the roomiest, quietest of the jets—United Air Lines' DC-8 Jet Mainliner. The first domestic airline to study, evaluate and order jets, United chose the DC-8 by Douglas, the company that has built more airliners than all other makers combined. The DC-8 Jet Mainliner*, years newer and designed from the drawing board up as a passenger liner, is the worthy successor to the long line of familiar, dependable "DC" planes which have carried four out of five air travelers for the last two decades.

DESIGNED WITH EXTRA CARE in every detail, United's DC-8 Jet Mainliner is a roomier, quieter, more luxurious jet. For example, in addition to the First Class luxury of the Red Carpet* Room, there is a spacious lounge in the Custom Coach section. Seat backs are higher, broader for extra privacy. There's more leg room. New design makes all areas of the DC-8 seem like well-appointed rooms. Soft lighting, restful Raymond Loewy decor, thick carpets all add to a feeling of quietness and comfort. Douglas-designed for United Air Lines extra care.

WHY THE DC-8 IS THE BEST OF THE JETS

NEWER—a four year advance in basic jet design. Planned from the ground up specifically for airline use.

ROOMIER—there's room to roam in this largest transcontinental jet...full-width Red Carpet* Room plus Custom Coach lounge.

COMFORT—larger, more comfortable seats. New fingertip air-conditioning, indirect cabin lighting. Windows twice as large as any other jet.

QUIETER—extra soundproofing and thick, sound absorbing fabrics make it the quietest jet.

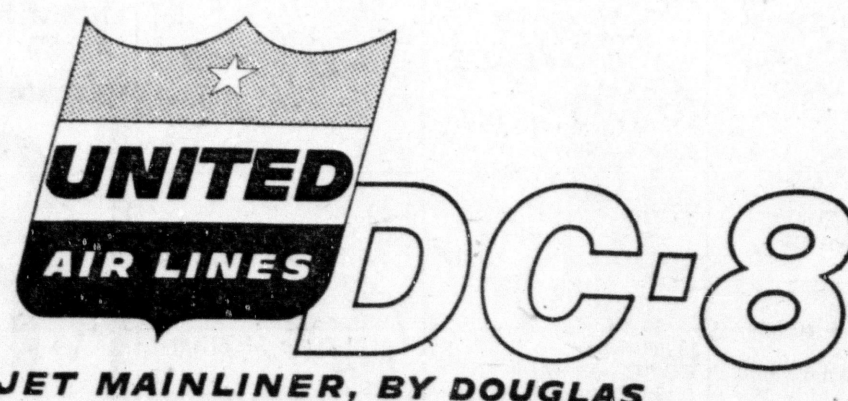

PERFORMANCE—proven by one of the most thorough test programs ever. Douglas dependability and famous United Air Lines extra care.

QUIETER—You'll discover a new in-flight quiet aboard United's DC-8. That's because United specified extra sound-proofing materials and added rich, soft, sound-absorbing fabrics throughout to make this the quietest, most relaxing jet of all. First Class or Custom Coach.
